PREVIEWING THE 2012 TAR HEELS

First-year head coach Larry Fedora welcomes back 37 lettermen from the 2011 UNC squad that finished 7-6 overall and advanced to the program's fourth-consecutive bowl game.

The Tar Heels return seven starters on offense, including record-setting players Bryn Renner at quarterback and Giovani Bernard at tailback. Renner threw for a single-season school record 26 touchdown passes and Bernard had a UNC freshman record 1,253 rushing yards. Four of the five starters on the offensive line return, including second-team All-ACC performers Jonathan Cooper (OG) and James Hurst (OT).

On defense, tackle Sylvester Williams and linebacker Kevin Reddick highlight a group of five returning starters. Williams was a standout in his first season with the Tar Heels in 2011 and Reddick finished second on the team in tackles despite missing some time due to injury.

On special teams, Casey Barth returns after missing most of last season with a groin injury. He was granted a fifth year of eligibility and enters the 2012 season just four field goals shy of becoming the school's all-time leader in field goals. Punter Tommy Hibbard also returns after a solid freshman season in which he averaged more than 38 yards per kick.

Fedora, who led Southern Miss to a CUSA title in 2011, believes in a no-huddle, spread offense that promises to be up-tempo and entertaining. The foundation of the "Fed Spread" first began in his coaching days as high school coach in Texas. He later brought that style with him to Baylor, Florida, Oklahoma State and, most recently, Southern Miss. Last season, he led the Golden Eagles to a school-record 12 wins, a conference championship and a win in the Hawaii Bowl.

Fedora also promises his teams will attack on defense and make game-changing plays in special teams. The Tar Heels will switch to a 4-2-5 base defense, which allows for greater flexibility and disguised schemes.

TB • Giovani Bernard

A LOOK AT THE 2012 SCHEDULE

In Fedora's first year, the Tar Heels play a seven-game home schedule that includes contests against in-state opponents East Carolina (Sept. 22) and NC State (Oct. 27). The home slate also features ACC opponents Virginia Tech (Oct. 6), Georgia Tech (Nov. 10) and Maryland (Nov. 24) and non-conference games vs. Elon (Sept. 1) and Idaho (Sept. 29).

The Tar Heels go on the road to face Wake Forest (Sept. 8), Louisville (Sept. 15), Miami (Oct. 13), Duke (Oct. 20) and Virginia (Thursday, Nov. 15). Carolina faces a quick turnaround from its home game against Georgia Tech on Nov. 10 to travel to Charlottesville for its first road Thursday night game at Virginia since 2006. The Virginia game will be televised nationally by ESPN.

Schedule Notes:

• This is the first time Carolina has faced Maryland since 2008 and the first time the two teams have met at Kenan Stadium since a 16-13 UNC victory in 2007. This is the first time Carolina and Maryland have met in the final game of the regular season. It is the first time Carolina has played an opponent other than Duke or NC State in the final game of the year since playing at Virginia Tech in 2005.

• This is the first year the game at Duke has not been played on the final weekend of the regular season since 1998. That year, the Tar Heels played NC State in Charlotte on Nov. 28.

• The Tar Heels play five opponents from the state of North Carolina - Elon, Duke, NC State, Wake Forest and East Carolina - for the first time since the 1940s.

• Carolina and East Carolina will meet for the fifth time in the last six years. The Tar Heels are 3-1 in the four previous meetings, including a 35-20 win in 2011 and a 42-17 win in 2010.

• Carolina travels to Louisville for the third time in school history and the first since 2005. The series with the Cardinals is tied at three following the Tar Heels' 14-7 win in Chapel Hill last year.

• The meetings with Elon and Idaho are the first in school history.

NOTING THE TAR HEELS - OFFENSE

Tailback: Giovani Bernard returns for his sophomore season after earning consensus freshman All-America honors in 2011. The Davie, Fla., product rushed 239 times for 1,253 yards and 13 touchdowns in 2011, an average of 5.2 yards per carry and 96.4 yards per game. He also had 45 receptions (third on the team) for 362 yards and a score.

Bernard finished first nationally among freshman rushers while ranking third in the league and 28th in the country overall. Bernard became the first Carolina player to rush for 1,000 yards in a single season since Jonathan Linton in 1997. He rushed for 100-plus yards seven times in 2011, breaking the previous UNC freshman mark of six set by Amos Lawrence in 1977.

After Bernard, the depth chart is thin as only junior A.J. Blue has any game experience. Blue rushed for 138 yards and scored once in 2011. Redshirt freshman Romar Morris is a speedy back who ran for 40 yards, had 35 yards receiving and scored three touchdowns in the 2012 Spring Game.

Quarterback: Quarterback Bryn Renner enters his junior season as one of the nation's most efficient quarterbacks. He ranked first in the ACC and 10th in the nation in pass efficiency with a 159.4 rating as a sophomore. He completed 68.3 percent of his attempts and was 239 for 350 for 3,086 yards and a single-season school record 26 touchdowns.

Renner, who operated a version of the spread offense in high school, had surgery immediately after the 2011 season to remove bone spurs in his ankle. He admittedly struggled in the first week of the spring, but became increasingly more comfortable with the offense. In the Spring Game, he completed 23 of 28 attempts for 295 yards and two TDs.

Renner enters the fall as the starter, but will be pushed by redshirt freshman Marquise Williams of Charlotte, N.C. Williams also ran a spread offense in high school, but has yet to see any game action in college.

Wide Receiver: Erik Highsmith headlines a group of receivers returning in 2012 that must increase their production to make up for the loss of senior Dwight Jones. Jones accounted for nearly a third of Carolina's receiving yardage and scored nearly half of the team's receiving touchdowns. Highsmith enters 2012 with 112 career catches. He finished second on the team a year ago with 51 receptions for 726 yards and five touchdowns. In the Independence Bowl vs. Missouri, he had a career-high eight catches for 77 yards and a score.

Jheranie Boyd has had some highlight moments in his career, yet enters his senior season with just 40 catches. Remarkably, 30 percent (12) have gone for touchdowns. Boyd has averaged 20.4 yards per catch in his career, and his 97-yard reception vs. LSU in 2010 is the longest catch in UNC history. The Tar Heels will look to exploit his open field speed this season.

Todd Harrelson, who is more well known as a kick returner than a receiver, came out of the spring on top of the depth chart. He has three career receptions, including a spectacular catch in the 2010 Music City Bowl to keep the Tar Heels' final game-tying drive alive.

Sophomores Reggie Wilkins, T.J. Thorpe and Sean Tapley are three young players that should flourish in the wide open offense.

Tight End: Although he had just 10 catches a year ago as a true freshman, tight end Eric Ebron showed he has the ability to become an offensive threat. He had 207 receiving yards (20.7 avg) and one touchdown, but four of his receptions were 20 yards or longer.

Fellow sophomore Jack Tabb had two receptions for 14 yards last year, but has all the tools to be an every-down tight end. He's an excellent blocker who continues to improve in the passing game. Sophomore Sean Fitzpatrick continued to improve this spring and should find a role in the passing game.

Offensive Line: With four starters returning, the offensive line is arguably the strength of the entire team, provided it stays healthy. That health was shaken this offseason when senior guard Jonathan Cooper had shoulder surgery. tackle Brennan Williams had knee surgery and center Russell Bodine hurt his knee. All three missed the Spring Game and are hopeful to return in time for the fall. Cooper, a Phil Steele preseason All-America selection, is joined on the left side of the line by junior tackle James Hurst. Second-team All-ACC picks in 2011, Cooper and Hurst opened many holes for Bernard to become the first 1,000-yard rusher at UNC in more than a decade.

Guard Travis Bond anchors the right side of the line as he enters his third year as a starter. Once he returns from knee surgery, Williams will man the right tackle spot.

Bodine is in line to replace departed starter Cam Holland. Holland started for three years and was a two-time Rimington Award candidate. Bodine started two games in 2011 and saw significant playing time as the Tar Heels' employed several six-man offensive line formations.

NOTING THE TAR HEELS - DEFENSE

Linebackers: A preseason All-America candidate, Kevin Reddick is a three-year starter who fought off a couple of nagging injures (ankle, abdominal strain) in 2011 to post 71 tackles, 6.0 tackles for losses, one sack and one fumble recovery. Reddick has the ability to be one of the league's top defensive playmakers and should thrive in the new attacking defense.

Senior Fabby Desir is in his second year in the program and is Reddick's top backup. He had 15 tackles and a fumble recovery in his first year with the Tar Heels.

At the weakside linebacker position Tommy Heffernan and Travis Hughes will battle for a starting spot this fall. A former walk-on from Miami, Heffernan continues to improve. As a true freshman last year, Hughes started at Georgia Tech and saw significant time on special teams, registering 13 tackles.

As part of the changes to its defensive scheme, the Tar Heels have created the "bandit" position, which is a hybrid between a linebacker and a defensive end. According the coaching staff, this player will have the ability to play as a down lineman in a 4-3 scheme or play off the line in a 3-4 look. Senior Dion Guy is the top candidate heading into the fall, but will face competition from junior Curtis Campbell and sophomore Norkeithus Otis. Each will be looking for his first career start.

Defensive line: Defensive tackle Sylvester Williams turned down an opportunity to leave early for the NFL and returned for his senior season. A junior college standout, Williams improved his resume with his outstanding play during his first season with the Tar Heels. He started every game and finished the season with 54 tackles, including seven for losses, and had one interception and three pass breakups. Williams is a raw talent, who had an interesting journey to major college football, which included stops at Modine Manufacturing Company and Coffeyville Community College in Kansas. After two seasons at Coffeyville, he earned junior college All-America honors in 2010 and accepted a scholarship to Carolina.

Junior Kareem Martin returns at defensive end where he had 40 tackles, seven tackles for losses and four sacks a year ago. Martin was outstanding through the first six games of the 2011 season, and is a good pass rusher. He will face competition this year from junior Tim Jackson, who is more adept at stopping the run.

Secondary: Since settling into the safety position, Tre Boston has been one of Carolina's top defensive playmakers. Last season, he finished third on the team with 70 tackles and tied for the team lead with three interceptions. Boston takes chances at times, but should fit well in the 4-2-5 scheme with his ability to play the run and cover.

Sophomore Tim Scott and junior Jabari Price are the two starting cornerbacks entering the fall. As a true freshman in 2011, Scott started eight games and had 43 tackles, one interception and six pass breakups. After a productive freshman campaign in 2010, Price injured his hand in last season's training camp and was limited to just eight games, posting 16 tackles and two pass breakups.

Redshirt freshman Sam Smiley won a starting spot at safety during the spring, but will face competition from Darien Rankin and Kameron Jackson.

RENNER STEPS UP

Bryn Renner had big shoes to fill. For two years, the quarterback had watched from the sidelines as T.J. Yates re-wrote the Tar Heel record books. But with Yates a Houston Texan, it was Renner's turn to step under center. And step up he did. Renner's 2011 campaign ended with a school record 26 touchdowns and 3,086 passing yards (second only to Yates in 2010).

Two days after the Independence Bowl, Renner had surgery to remove bone spurs in his left ankle. The condition became an issue last summer, and Renner had opted to play while wearing a brace."I knew I had bone spurs, and it was going to be a long process," Renner says. While his teammates participated in summer conditioning, Renner rode a stationary bike, only emerging to run seven-on-seven scrimmages at the end of the sessions. "It was really frustrating, because I couldn't be out there and be the leader I wanted to be with the team," he says. "This year is going to be a lot of fun, because I'll have the chance to interact more and be out there, doing what everybody else is doing."

With a new head coach comes a clean slate, and Renner realizes that no position on the depth chart is secure. So, he set out to learn from new offensive coordinator Blake Anderson. "I told him the first time he came in here that I want to be a sponge," Renner says. "I'm going to soak up everything that you say, and I want to know exactly what you know, because I've got to perform on Saturdays."

Despite his gaudy numbers from a year ago, Renner says he has a lot to prove to Larry Fedora and the new coaching staff. "I wanted to show them that I'm fully committed to them," the quarterback says. "I'm on board. I want to be one of the leaders of this team, and that's what I've been trying to prove every day since they got here."

With opportunities abounding, Renner says there is a new energy at practice. "Guys have a hunger to get on the field. When you look at the guy next to you, you know he's going to push a little harder because he wants to get on the field and play on Saturdays. Coach Fedora is making us push the extra mile."

Renner says he and the Tar Heels are looking forward to getting past distractions and starting a new era of Carolina football. "It's just getting past the old stuff, flipping the page and starting fresh," he says. "Everyone's got a clean slate, everyone's working hard to play, and Coach Fedora has done a really great job. He's getting us excited."

Q&A WITH HEAD COACH LARRY FEDORA

At the conclusion of his first spring in Chapel Hill, head coach Larry Fedora discussed the upcoming season with the media.

Q: What were your objectives for the spring and did you meet those?

LF: We had three objectives coming out of spring ball this year. One was that, at the end of spring, hopefully our kids would have an understanding of our base in all three phases of the game. Two, we would learn how to practice the new way that we want to be able to practice. And three was to identify who our playmakers are going to be. We felt like we were close to accomplishing those three objectives. We came out of spring without any major injuries, so we were pleased with it.

Q: In terms of how you were able to put your stamp on the program this spring, what was most successful for you and were you able to get a lot done in that regard?

LF: All we've done is come in and try to implement a philosophy. It's a whole new offense, a whole new defense and a whole new special teams unit. We've worked hard at implementing that. We're not anywhere close at this time. But I think our guys have an understanding of what we're trying to do. How long that will take for us to get there? I don't know.

Q: In terms of your philosophy, how was that evident in spring? How did you implement that philosophy?

LF: That's hard to say. When you implement a philosophy, you go about doing things the way you've always done them. That includes the style of practice, the way we meet, the way we dress, the way we carry ourselves on campus, the way we carry ourselves around the facility, the way we act, everything.

The biggest change was to try to learn how to practice the way we want to practice, and that is with energy and enthusiasm, and excitement each and every day and to do that on a consistent level. Again, that takes some time to get done.

Q: After going through 15 practices and a spring game and getting to know your personnel, what would you say is your biggest area of concern?

LF: I'm really concerned with the depth on our football team right now and not having enough at every position. It's something that is expected and we'll have to continue to work on in the future.

Q: Assuming that depth is a problem at most positions, could one make the assumption that a lot of freshmen are going to get an opportunity to play right away?

LF: I think we're going to have a lot of freshmen that are going to have to come in and compete for jobs. Hopefully these guys are ready to go. But when you're counting on freshmen, that's usually not a good sign.

Larry Fedora
Head Coach

Q: Is depth at wide receiver a concern because you use so many in the spread offense, which will be different than the pro-style (two wide receiver) sets Carolina used last year?

LF: Yes, when you have two tight ends and one receiver on the field or one tight end and two receivers on the field, you don't need as many wide receivers in your program. We're in a system where we'll be in at least three wide receivers on the field the majority of the time, sometimes four and even five if we can get there. I don't think we can get there at this point.

Q: Is that an area where a new guy coming in without experience can contribute right away, or is that one of those positions where in your system you think a guy really needs to redshirt?

LF: No, there's no position on the field that we designate as a position that needs to redshirt as a freshman. It depends if a young man comes in and proves he's better than someone else at that position. We don't care if they're freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors; it doesn't matter. It's about production. Unfortunately, because of lack of depth, you may have to play some kids that aren't ready to play. I think there are some opportunities for young kids to come in and get on the field.

Q: How about the flip side on defense, how will this team look defensively with you now in charge?

LF: We're going to be a 4-2-5 defense, a defense where we can be very multiple. We can be a 3-4 or a 4-3, or a 3-3, all with the same personnel on the field. With the way offenses are these days, being able to be multiple on defense is a big plus. I don't know if you'll be able to see what we're in or where we're coming from or what we're actually doing before the play starts. That's an advantage for us and makes it tough on quarterback."

Q: Is your current personnel a good fit for the spread offense you want to run?

LF: If you're going to be a good football coach, what you have to do is mold your philosophy around the talent that you have. In these spring practices, one of the most important things we do is try to identify what these kids can do so we can mold the offense, the defense or special teams around them.

Q: Because of the previous offense at UNC, there are a lot of tight ends in the program. How do you utilize those guys?

LF: In this system I've had, I think I've had five tight ends come out of this system and play in the NFL. The one I had at Oklahoma State was the first tight end taken in the draft. Our tight ends have consistently caught somewhere between 40 to 50 balls a year. That was one position that I didn't mention I was concerned about because we do have some depth there. You've got Jack Tabb. You've got Eric Ebron. You've got Sean Fitzpatrick. We have guys that we feel pretty good right now. I think those guys are going to be big factors in what we do this next season.

The UNC football program is on probation until March 11, 2015 for NCAA violations stemming from three areas - 1) a former tutor committing academic fraud with student-athletes and providing impermissible benefits; 2) the provision of impermissible benefits to student-athletes by various individuals, including sports agents and their associates; 3) unethical conduct by a former assistant coach. The penalties in the case included: public reprimand and censure; three years of probation; three-year show-cause penalty for a former assistant football coach; postseason ban for the 2012 football season; reduction of football scholarships by a total of 15 during three academic years; vacation of wins during the 2008 and 2009 seasons; a $50,000 fine; disassociation of both the former tutor and a former student-athlete who served as an agent runner.

BY THE NUMBERS

4 - Casey Barth needs four field goals to surpass his brother Connor as the all-time leader in field goals made at UNC. Casey enters 2012 with 51 career made field goals.

14 - Tailback Giovani Bernard scored 14 touchdowns in 2011 (13 rushing, 1 receiving). That was the most at UNC since Leon Johnson had 16 in 1993.

26.7 - T.J. Thorpe led the ACC and ranked 13th in the country with a 26.7 kickoff return average. He returned a kickoff 100 yards for a touchdown at Clemson.

35 - Senior offensive guard Jonathan Cooper has started 35 games in his career, the most of any active offensive lineman in the ACC and the fifth-most of any returning ACC player.

68.3 - Quarterback Bryn Renner completed 68.3 percent of his passes last year, the eighth-best single-season mark in ACC history. Renner enters his junior year as the NCAA's most accurate active career passer in FBS with a career completion percentage at 68.18.

80.95 - Casey Barth's career field goal percentage entering the 2012 season. Barth has made 51 of 63 field goal attempts in his career and ranks third nationally among all returnees in the FBS in career FG percentage.

74.8 - Under Larry Fedora, Southern Miss averaged 74.8 plays per game, which ranked eighth in the country. Last year, Carolina ran 63.4 plays per game, which ranked 117th.

120 - Carolina has made 120 consecutive extra points, including a school record 82 by Casey Barth and 38 by Thomas Moore. Barth's only miss was in the second game of the season opener vs. The Citadel in 2009. Barth has made 116 of 117 attempts.

159.40 - Quarterback Bryn Renner led the ACC and ranked 10th nationally in pass efficiency with a 159.40 mark in 2011.

BERNARD WELL-SUITED FOR SINGLE-BACK OFFENSE

Giovani Bernard burst on to the Tar Heel football season in 2011, a year after he sustained a torn ACL on the third day of fall practice. Bernard set Carolina freshman records with 1,253 rushing yards on 239 attempts and scored 13 touchdowns, earning All-ACC honors in the process.

Bernard will attempt to duplicate - or even surpass - his successes from a year ago under a new coaching staff. Each player was granted a clean slate under Larry Fedora, which means that there will be competition up and down the depth chart. "Coach (Randy) Jordan said 'It's your job to keep your job,' and I've been working at it every single day getting better, not letting that next guy behind me come and take my spot. When it comes down to it, everybody's competing for the starting job, and it's my job to keep it."

In doing that, Bernard says he's not dwelling on the numbers he put up as a redshirt freshman. "I put it behind me," he says. "You've got to take each year by itself. You can't rely on last year's stats, because every team's changing. It's just a matter of going out there every game and just doing what you can."

Bernard will be doing what he can within a new offense, one that looks to spread the field and get the ball to playmakers. "They're asking us to do a lot more in the passing game, especially," Bernard says of the tailbacks' role in the offense. "Even if we don't get the ball in the pass routes, we open up other spots. We open up that next route for that other receiver, and that creates a big play. This entire team and offensive staff has talked about big plays, and that's what wins us games; that's what we need."

Another wrinkle? The tailback will be the 'single back' in the single backs sets employed by offensive coordinator Blake Anderson. There's no fullback to be found in the backfield. "I wouldn't say it makes much of a difference, because when a lineman pulls, he's, in a sense, a fullback. It's just another guy that's not in the way, I guess."

Despite learning two playbooks and playing under different offensive coordinators, Bernard says the techniques he's learned through the years continue to help him along the way. He expects that when his number is called, he'll know what to do. "Once you get the ball, it's what you can do with it. You've got tricks and traits that can help you out, crafts to make your game better. That's the position of running back: adapting to what the defense gives you."

PRICE READY TO REBOUND IN 2012

Jabari Price came out of nowhere in 2010. Forced into action due to suspensions in the secondary, Price answered the bell as a true freshman, appearing in all 13 games, starting four and recording 20 tackles. With the departure of Kendric Burney, it seemed natural that Price would step into a prominent role as a sophomore. Through spring practice and into training camp, he was in line for a starting spot. Not so fast.

Last summer, Price tore a tendon in his hand, short-circuiting his training camp and forcing him out of action for six weeks. "They asked me if I wanted to redshirt," he says. "I couldn't redshirt. These were games when the team needed me." Eventually, he played in eight games and recorded 16 tackles, but Price says he was not the same player. "I never felt confident in my hand, but there were things I was capable of doing without my hand." Still, he feels like there was an opportunity missed last year. "We had something good going into the season. Tre (Boston) moved out of position, and I messed up the whole secondary. I've got to stay healthy this year."

The 2012 season provides Price an opportunity to make up for lost time. With his hand fully healthy, he's looking forward to turning the page. "I'm excited about the fresh start," Price says. "No matter what accolades you had, or what you did in the past, they let the door open for everyone to come in and compete. With this new scheme, I feel like everyone is able to play to their abilities and make plays all over the field."

Price knows that the new coaches bring no pre-conceived notions to the table, so the last two years are out the window. Yes, even his highlights from 2010. "Coach Fedora's not going to go back to my freshman tape to see what I can do," he says. "Last year, he sees an 85 percent Jabari Price out there trying to compete." Price says his parents encouraged him to delve into the playbook and learn the 4-2-5 defensive scheme. "This is something new, and it's definitely exciting," he says.

With a new scheme, a healthy hand and renewed dedication, Jabari Price sees his junior campaign as an opportunity to make up for lost time. "I missed hearing my name," he says of his 2010 season. "It hurt me, every game, to watch my teammates go out there to war without me, so I definitely have something to prove this year. Nobody cares about what you did last year; it's what can you do for me now. I've got remember that attitude every day I go out there."

REDDICK SETS THE TONE

Kevin Reddick started the seventh game of his freshman year - in prime time against Florida State - and hasn't looked back since. By default, the man in the middle of the Tar Heel defense has become a leader, both vocally and by example. "If things are going wrong, you've got to go ahead and speak up," he says. "If you want to win games, you've got to say something to people, because if not, it'll continue to go on." Reddick says he learned to speak, if only a little, as a freshman, and quickly earned the respect of his teammates. "That's how it carried on throughout the years, just speaking up, leading by example, and trying to do the right thing."

Carolina's first-year coaching staff will rely on Reddick to set the tone for their inaugural season. The 4-2-5 defense employed by Vic Koenning and the defensive coaches will count on the man in the middle to know his role, and those of his teammates. "Right now, I'm only learning my part, but as it goes on, I should be trying to learn everybody else's part," Reddick says. "I used to know the whole defense. Being that I've only had a semester under my belt in this new defense, it's going to take some time."

The turnover at the top meant gave opportunities to players that might have been lost in the shuffle a year ago. It also meant that no one on the depth chart was safe. "Everybody had a fresh start, even me," Reddick says. "I wasn't guaranteed a spot. I've still got to put in the work." But the coaching staff knows that they'll need a dedicated Reddick to have a successful 2012. "Coach Vic stays on me. He wants me to be great, so he stays on me every minute he can."

Carolina's leading returning tackler, Reddick was named a defensive team captain a year ago, and Phil Steele named him first-team preseason All-America in 2012. He's considered a top professional prospect, but Reddick is not content to rest on past accolades. "I know I'm growing a lot, getting wiser, but I have yet to have the year I want to have," he says. "I think that's coming. As my last year approaches, I'm hungrier than I've ever been, so I feel like I have yet to have that big year, and anyone who thinks I have should rethink it."

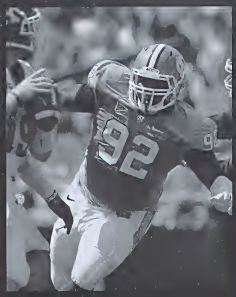
DT • Sylvester Williams

SLY AT HOME IN CHAPEL HILL



Sylvester Williams remembers his first impression of Larry Fedora. "He said, 'I'm here to win games and I want to be successful, and I want to win the ACC championship,' and when he said that, I said, 'OK, well that's my goal as well.'" Williams saw his new head coach as someone he could get along with. After that meeting in early December, Williams watched Fedora return to Southern Miss to coach in the Hawaii Bowl before taking on his new responsibilities at North Carolina. "He went back and coached those guys. Those guys fought for him. I think it's because he's a great coach and a great leader."

In the intervening months, Williams has been getting to know Fedora and his staff. "It's really intense with the new coaching staff," he says. "This team is coming together really strong, and we're all fighting for the same thing, which is to win 12 games."

A year ago, Williams had 54 tackles - seven for loss - on the defensive line, and he figures to be a leader on the defense in 2012. But just as the offensive playbook is changing, so too is the defense. "Last fall it was, you line up in this spot, you beat that guy and you go make a play. This time, you may start in the 'A' gap, but when the ball's snapped you may slide to the 'B' gap. It's a lot more movement." That's something Williams doesn't mind. "I feel like I can adjust to any scheme and any position on the defensive line that I need to play."

Williams - like all of Carolina's seniors - could have transferred without penalty due to the NCAA sanctions that will keep the Tar Heels out of postseason play this fall. But the junior college transfer chose to play out his senior season in Carolina blue. But in Chapel Hill, the Jefferson City, Mo. native has found home. That's the message he kept coming back to when considering leaving the team. "I had a lot of schools contact me; even very close to home. One of the things they said to me was, 'You're going to be right at home and play right in front of your family,' and I said, 'Well I'm already at home at North Carolina.'

Williams worked at a manufacturing facility after high school, making radiators for large trucks before enrolling in junior college and eventually at North Carolina. In December, he will earn his degree. "It's not always about football to me. It's about the tradition that this school holds. There aren't too many people in this world that are going to be able to say they played in Kenan Stadium for the University of North Carolina, and so I don't want to let that go for anything."

CAROLINA

2012 TAR HEEL FOOTBALL YEARBOOK

HEAD COACH

COACHES & STAFF

Head Coach
1st Year at UNC

Larry Fedora, who led Southern Miss to the 2011 Conference USA championship, enters his first season as head coach at the University of North Carolina. Fedora is the 35th head coach in UNC history and the 11th since the ACC was formed in 1953.

"We identified and spoke to a number of highly qualified coaches and the person whom we believe is the best to lead the Carolina football program forward is Larry Fedora," said UNC athletics director Bubba Cunningham after hiring Fedora on Dec. 8, 2011. "We share great expectations for the potential of Carolina football. Larry has a strong record both as the head coach at Southern Miss and for 18 years as a college assistant coach. Throughout his career his teams have been known for their exciting and highly productive offenses and aggressive defenses."

In four seasons at Southern Miss, Fedora compiled a 34-19 overall record, including an 12-2 mark in 2012, and advanced to four consecutive bowl games. USM knocked off previously unbeaten and then-No. 6 ranked Houston, 49-28, in the CUSA title game and then won its school-record 12th game of the year over Nevada in the Hawaii Bowl. The Golden Eagles reached double digits in wins for just the third time in school history and the first time since 1952. USM finished the season ranked No. 19 in the USA Today Coaches Top 25 poll, No. 20 in the Associated Press poll and No. 21 in the BCS standings.

Statistically, Fedora's 2011 team was among the best in the country on both sides of the ball. Southern Miss was 17th in the nation in total offense, averaging 461.4 yards per game, and 14th in scoring offense with 36.9 points per contest. On defense, the Golden Eagles were seventh in pass efficiency defense, 26th in scoring defense and 29th in total defense.

Southern Miss developed into an explosive offensive program during Fedora's tenure, gaining more than 5,000 total yards of offense in each of hi four seasons, including a school-record 6,459 yards in 2011. In three of his four years in Hattiesburg, the Golden Eagles established a school record for total offense. In addition, USM is one of only five school to run more than 1,000 plays in the last two seasons.

En route to an eight win season in 2010, Southern Miss established 35 school records and finished 18th in the country in total offense – the highest finish for the Golden Eagles since becoming a member of the FBS. Fedora's Southern Miss offenses were 31st in the nation in 2009 and 20th in 2008.

While admired for his offensive style, Fedora also brings an attacking defensive philosophy to UNC. The Golden Eagles forced turnovers in 46 games during the Fedora era and two or more in 36 contests. That turnover margin helped the Golden Eagles rank 10th in turnover margin nationally for the second consecutive year in 2009 and 20th in 2010. In 2011, Fedora's defense set an FBS record with eight interceptions returned for touchdown.

Off the field, Fedora's teams have succeeded in the classroom. Southern Miss's graduation success rate (GSR) ranked second in CUSA in the 2009-10 academic year and third during the 2010-11 academic year. In 2009, USM was recognized by the AFCA for its graduation success rate.

The Southern Miss job was Fedora's first head coaching assignment after excelling in the collegiate ranks as an assistant. He spent three seasons as the offensive coordinator at Oklahoma State from 2005-07 where the Cowboys raised their rushing, passing and total offensive yards each year with Fedora at the helm. In 2006, the Cowboys were one of just two teams - the other being Boise State - to average over 200 yards both rushing and passing.

The OSU offense averaged over 30 points per contest over his final two seasons as well. The Cowboys made the biggest improvement in the country in scoring following his second season of running the offense, jumping from 96th nationally in 2005 to 7th in 2006.

Prior to his stint at Oklahoma State, Fedora spent three seasons at Florida as run game coordinator (2002), perimeter game coordinator (2003) and offensive coordinator (2004). He also coached the running backs and receivers all three seasons.

In 2004, Fedora's Gators ranked first in the SEC in six different categories including passing offense (271.1), total offense (426.9), third down conversion percentage (47.8), touchdown passes (29), pass attempts (407) and pass completions (243).

Before going to Florida, Fedora was the offensive coordinator at Middle Tennessee from 1999-2001. In three seasons at MTSU, Fedora's offense averaged 424 yards of total offense, 181 rushing yards and 31 points per game. With Fedora as their offensive coordinator, the Blue Raiders set 43 school records over three seasons.

Fedora began his coaching career as a graduate assistant (1986) at Austin College. He then served as an assistant coach at Garland (Texas) High School from 1987-90. Fedora returned to the collegiate ranks in 1991, serving as the tight ends, wide receivers and running backs coach at Baylor, where he stayed until 1996. He then spent two seasons (1997-98) at Air Force coaching the passing game and wide receivers.

As a player, Fedora was a wide receiver at Austin College (1981-84) in Sherman, Texas. He helped lead the Kangaroos to the NAIA championship in 1981. He earned academic All-American honors in 1983, and honorable mention All-American in both 1983 and 1984.

Born Sept. 10, 1962, in College Station, Texas, Fedora is a 1985 graduate of Austin College, where he also received his Masters degree in 1986. He is married to the former Christi Wood, and the couple has one son, Dillon, and three daughters, Sydney, Peyton and Hallie.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT FEDORA

Grant Teaff, Executive Director, AFCA and former head coach at Baylor:

"I think he is one of finest young coaches in the country, and he gets better every year that he's a head coach. Being a head coach is something that just doesn't happen overnight; you learn as you go along. He's mastered a lot of skills, and I think the big thing that makes him such a good leader is that he's very, very genuine. He's a person that people trust, he has high character and integrity, and for his age, he's very wise,and he makes good decisions. Those are all characteristics for a good leader, and that's what you have to have if you're going to have a successful football program . . . He felt like the University of North Carolina was the perfect fit for him, and I do too. I really think it's the right place at the right time for Larry, and I think for the University of North Carolina as well."

Mike Gundy, Oklahoma State head coach:

"I think it's a great hire. Larry is energetic, intelligent and aggressive. He has great people skills and he is a tireless recruiter."

Mike Holder, Oklahoma State athletic director:

"He has every quality that you should be looking for in a head coach. I expect him to be very successful and very popular."

Jeremy Foley, University of Florida athletic director:

"I think Carolina fans are going to find a guy who's going to work real hard,and a guy that's going to represent your great institution with class. I think the players will like him. I think his offense will be very attractive to fans to watch. I think he's a winner. Obviously he's got some work to do, but he'll get it done. I'm a huge fan.

"Carolina's one of the most quality institutions in the country. They've got a great tradition. You want to build something in football like what you've got in basketball. Big fan base, great place to live, great academics, great support, but he knows all that He's a smart guy. He's done his homework, too. I just told Larry I thought it'd be a great fit for him.

"(In looking for a head coach), I think you look for energy. I think you look for passion, you look for a guy who's a winner, you look for a guy who treats people right, you look for a guy that has class, you look for a guy that can recruit, I think Larry can recruit extremely well. You can see what he's done at Southern Miss. He recruited very well when he was here. I think he's the whole package. I don't want to put any extra pressure on him, because I know there's enough pressure in this business ot it is, but I just think the guys's a winner and he'll win for you guys."

Mack Brown, Texas head coach:

"Larry's teams were a load (ot Oklahoma State). I was going to go after him hard if I needed a new coordinator because of what they did to us. They gave us fits. It was fun trying to figure out a way to stop them. I think Carolina fans have a lot to look forward to.

"If somebady has it, they'll make it as a head coach. If they don't have it, they won't make it. And if they don't know what it is, they don't have a chance. Larry is one of those guys from early in his career you could see had it. I'm excited he's at Carolina."

Fisher DeBerry, former head coach at Air Force Academy

"That's a great decision by the University of North Carolina. He's a really likable person, a wonderful family man and a great football coach. He laves his players and they love him. He's a Texas boy, but he'll adapt to that North Carolina barbeque in no time. I look for him to get North Carolina in the thick of things in the BCS in short order."

Urban Meyer, Ohio State head coach

"I have a ton of respect for Lorry Fedoro. He went out of his way to assist me when I was a coach at Florida. We are friends and I admire the way he does things. He is a great hire for the University of North Carolina."

Carolina's new head coach is building a program thraugh his high-energy style

By Turner Walston, Tar Heel Monthy Magazine

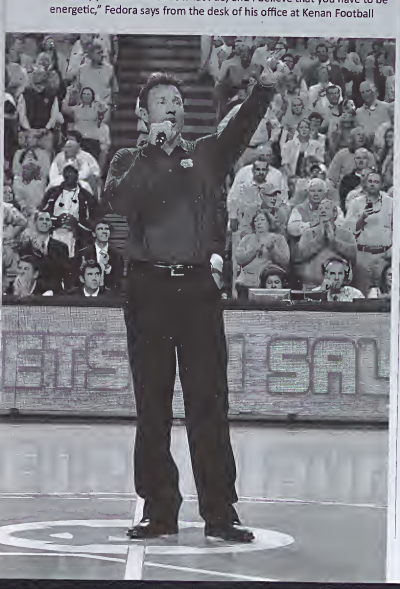
"How would I describe my own leadership style?" new Carolina football coach Larry Fedora says to his questioner. "I don't know. Wouldn't it be better for someone else to describe it?"

Fair enough. "One of the big words that just comes in my head is energy and enthusiasm, intensity," says offensive line coordinator Blake Anderson, who has worked with Fedora since 2008. "You're always going to get his very best. He's always ready to push the envelope in terms of intensity, enthusiasm and tempo, and his energy level is always extremely high."

"He's highly energetic, but holding you accountable," says Gunter Brewer, the Tar Heels' wide receivers coach, who worked alongside' Fedora on the staff at Oklahoma State. "That way, you know what the expectations are, and then you can achieve them. He'll give you ways to achieve them."

Tar Heel fans saw that energy, and those expectations, at Fedora's introductory press conference in early December. If spectators got up to get a drink, "You just missed a Tar Heel touchdown," he said to wild applause. Under Fedora, Carolina football would play smart, play fast, and be physical. At that press conference, it was clear that a new energy was being injected into a program that desperately needed it.

Three months after his introduction, the message is the same. "I'm very passionate about what I do, and I believe that you have to be energetic," Fedora says from the desk of his office at Kenan Football Center. "I believe that you have to be passionate. I believe that you have to be enthusiastic about the way you coach, the way you lead and I think that the staff has to be the same way, which would then carry over to our players so that our players play with energy, play with enthusiasm, play with passion. If you do those things, I think that you've got a chance to be successful."



That energy manifests itself on the practice field, as Fedora bounces from station to station, imploring his players to "Move! Move! Move!"

"He's just got demanding in his voice," says junior quarterback Bryn Renner. "He's got the moxie where he's going to have our back 10 percent, and he's all in...He just has that fire in him. He wants to win ballgames here. I think that's what everybody expects, and every time he talks, that's why we listen."

No doubt it's exciting to see an energetic figure at the head of the Carolina football program. But a demanding coach will quickly be tuned out by his players if he hasn't won their trust well before going into battle. "I don't think I can demand someone's respect just because I say that's the way it's got to be," Fedora says. "I think I've got to earn their respect. They have to understand, and they have to learn to build a relationship with me and realize that they can trust me, that whatever I tell them, that's the way it's going to be and that I am a man of my word, and I am going to hold them accountable for their actions and for their decisions, both good and bad. I think once they realize that when I do or say something, that's the way it's going to be, then they won't have a problem trusting me or respecting me."

Fedora was a freshman in high school when he realized he wanted to be a football coach. He loved the game. The work. The grind and the off-season. The weights. The running. The pain. Though the NFL had been his dream, he realized he didn't have the physical tools necessary for a playing career. Still, he wanted to be in the game as long as he could. "If you can't play it, maybe coach it," he thought.

After playing wide receiver for the Austin College Kangaroos (including winning an NAIA championship in 1981), Fedora began his coaching career as a graduate assistant there. Stints at Baylor, Air Force, Middle Tennessee and Oklahoma State followed before Southern Mississippi named him head coach in 2008. So in shaping his own leadership style, Fedora has taken things from those he learned from along the way: Grant Teaff. Chuck Reedy. Fisher DeBerry. Andy McCollum. Ron Zook. Mike Gundy. "It's not something you come up with by yourself," he says of his philosophy. "It's past failures, it's past experiences, it's past success. Through everything, you learn what's best for you." Even then, one style may not work to motivate all players. "Basically what you're trying to do is to get a young man or a group of men to do something that they may not really want to do, or may not really think that they can do, but you have to somehow get that out of them."

While other coaches may prefer different approaches, Fedora says he never made the conscious choice to be the high-energy guy. It's just who he is. "I don't go out on the field and try to become something that I'm not," he says. Though he grew up a fan of the Tom Landry Dallas Cowboys, he recognized that he wasn't going to be the stoic man on the sideline. "I have a lot of respect for all the different styles of coaches that are out there, but I think probably the best ones are the ones that are just themselves, and they don't worry about how they're perceived from other people."

In his early days, Fedora discovered that coaching wasn't just x's and o's. It was about more than the game. "We're talking about taking a young man and helping them grow into a full-grown man, and seeing what kind of man they're going to be come for the rest of their life," he says. "So really it's so much bigger than just the game of football."

A father of four, Fedora says that while he sometimes takes coaching home, he also has to bring 'Dad' to work. "I love the relationships that you build with them, and that's also overcoming the problems that they have, because they may be big and they may be fast and they may be strong, but they're still young men, and they still have the same problems that my own children have. Helping them to deal with those problems is part of the growing experience."

Dealing with problems is part of his maturity as a coach, as well. In his first three years at Southern Miss, two staff members were diagnosed with cancer, three players were shot, and one player committed suicide. "The thing that I've learned is that you're going to face some type of adversity each and every day. It's how you deal with adversity that really determines who you really are," he says.

In Fedora, Carolina has found someone who's dealt with issues far more serious than bowl bans and probation. For him, getting players on board and motivating an apprehensive fan base doesn't appear to be too intimidating. "I think everybody's excited, both the fans and the players," he says. "The fans want the Tar Heels to be successful. The players are going to be invested in it through the hard work and through the commitment that they're going to make to be successful."

Back in December, the head coach briefly spoke to Tar Heel players before returning to Hattiesburg to prepare for Southern Miss's appearance in the Hawaii Bowl. He says he wasn't all that concerned with making a good impression on them. "They really don't have a choice to get on board," he says. "This is it. This is who it is. This is who we are now, and if you don't like that, you can move on," he says. "I have a plan for us to be successful, and we're going to work as hard as we can on that plan."

In just a few short months, it's clear that the players have responded. The coach says he's been pleased with the attitudes, the willingness to learn, and the persistence. "We're a long way from where we've got to be," Fedora says, "but we're going to keep working on it, and hopefully each day we can just get a little bit better than we were the day before."

To carry out his plan for success, Fedora will not only need to lead, he'll need to identify leaders on a roster of players that he didn't recruit. This spring, he's seen young men support their teammates and hold them accountable, putting in the time themselves. "I think a leader finds out what they've got to do to be successful, and then he does it."

Now, Fedora is concerned only with moving forward. "I think everybody's hungry to move on and they just need someone to lead them beyond the past. That's why I'm here, to move the program forward. I think both the players and the fans are looking forward to that and putting the past behind them."

Fans unfamiliar with Fedora's style may have been caught off-guard by his introduction. But his open enthusiasm resonated with the Tar Heel fan base. "I think anytime I'm talking about this program, the passion that I have is going to come out. I'm probably loud and obnoxious to a lot of people—including my wife—but when I start talking about something that I'm passionate about, I think you're going to be able to sense it. That may be loud and obnoxious to you, but it's just passion to me."

DEKE ADAMS

Defensive Line Coach
Co-Recruiting Coordinator
First Year at UNC

Deke Adams

After serving three seasons as Larry Fedora's defensive line coach at Southern Miss, Deke Adams enters his first year as Carolina's defensive line coach in 2012.

Adams, a former Southern Miss letterman, was in charge of a front four that allowed just 112.6 rushing yards per game in 2011, good for second in Conference USA and 22nd in the country. The Golden Eagles ranked second in total defense and defensive end Cordarro Law was named first-team All-CUSA.

Southern Miss won the Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and then won its school-record 12th game of the year by beating Nevada in the Hawaii Bowl.

In 2010, the Golden Eagle defensive line continued to improve and show toughness in Adams' second year as they were among the toughest against the run and led CUSA in tackles for loss. Two of Adams' lineman, Anthony Gray and Law, also made up half of the 2010 All-Conference USA second team defensive squad on the line. Adams' also put one other player, John Henderson, on the honorable mention squad.

In his first year as a USM assistant coach, Adams inherited a young, but seasoned and talented group of players that progressively improved as the season continued. The defense finished the year No. 18 nationally in sacks and No. 24 nationally in tackles for loss. The year prior to his arrival, Southern Miss was No. 93 and No. 68, respectively, in those two defensive categories.

Adams came to Southern Miss after spending the previous year as linebackers coach and coordinator of player development at Louisiana-Monroe. Prior to his stint at ULM, he worked for two seasons at North Carolina A&T.

During his first season at North Carolina A&T, Adams stepped into the role of defensive coordinator two games into the season on a interim basis. Adams handled himself in a situation where he led a defense made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores, then was given the job on a permanent basis following that first season. Adams coached the defensive line during his first year in 2006 and the linebackers in 2007.

Adams spent four years at Ouachita Baptist University in Arkansas before his stint at North Carolina A&T. In 2005, he served as Ouachita Baptist's defensive coordinator. He was also responsible for coaching the defensive line. His duties also included recruiting the Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas areas.

Adams started his coaching career in 1997 when he accepted a position as the defensive line coach at Jacksonville State.

After spending one season at Jacksonville State, Adams coached at Pearl River Community College where he performed a variety of duties. He first served as the linebackers coach and, a few months later, was named co-defensive coordinator and secondary coach.

In 2001, Adams became the defensive coordinator and continued his duties as recruiting coordinator. He worked at Pearl River until 2002 when he accepted the position at Ouachita Baptist.

Adams was a four-year member of the Southern Miss Dean's List during his time as a student-athlete and three-time letterwinner for the Golden Eagle "Nasty Bunch" defense at Southern Miss from 1991-94.

Duing his tenure, the Golden Eagles enjoyed a pair of winning seasons and Adams went out on a winning note with a 20-18 victory over LSU in his final game as a senior.

He is married to the former Alexis Hall, a member of the 1,000-point club and four-year letter winner for the Southern Miss women's basketball team from 1988-1991. The couple has two sons, Jaylen and Jordyn.

BLAKE ANDERSON

Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks coach
First Year at UNC

After orchestrating one of the nation's top offensive units at Southern Miss, Blake Anderson joins the Carolina coaching staff as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Under Anderson, the Golden Eagles established school records for total offense in each of the last two years. He was part of a USM staff under head coach Larry Fedora that won a school-record 12 games in 2012, including the Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and the Hawaii Bowl over Nevada.

Anderson spent his first two seasons as USM's quarterbacks coach and run game coordinator and developed Austin Davis into one of the nation's top signal callers. Davis broke nearly every school record in an outstanding four-year career.

Under the eye of Anderson, the Golden Eagles were one of 14 teams in the country that averaged more than 200 yards per game in both rushing and passing in 2011. The Golden Eagles had nearly 6,500 yards of total offense and set a school record with 461.4 yards per game. In addition, USM was 15th nationally in scoring offense, 16th in total offense and 21st in rushing offense. Anderson's offense posted 30-or-more points in 10 of 14 games in 2011, including a season-high 63 in a win over Navy.

In 2010, Southern Miss was 18th in total offense, 20th in rushing offense and 35th in passing offense. The Golden Eagles also averaged 36.9 points per game to rank 15th in the nation. That season, Anderson's quarterbacks were among the most efficient in the nation with only eight interceptions thrown – including one by a wide receiver – to 24 touchdowns. Davis accounted for 10 of the team's 28 rushing touchdowns, more than any other back.

In his first year in Hattiesburg in 2008, Anderson mentored then redshirt freshman and first-year starter Davis, who responded by having the best season ever for a freshman QB at the school, while also putting together one of the better years that any signal caller has had at the university.

Davis, who was the first freshman to start in his opening game since 1991, notched 15 school records, including six season marks – passing yards (3,128), completions (261), attempts (454), total offense (3,636) and touchdowns responsible for (30).

Anderson came to Southern Miss after spending the 2007 campaign at Louisiana-Lafayette as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach.

The Ragin' Cajuns posted the No. 6-rated rushing offense nationally (251.6) in 2007 and became the Sun Belt's first ever 3,000-yard rushing team (3,019).

Anderson, who was in private business from 2004-2006, previously worked at Middle Tennessee, where he helped direct an offensive unit as co-offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach from 2002-04.

Anderson spent three seasons at New Mexico before landing at MTSU. He served as the wide receivers coach in 2001 and running backs coach from 1999-2000. The UNM rushing attack was responsible for a major share of the Lobo offense in 2000. The Lobos averaged 148 yards per game on the ground, which accounted for 56 percent of the team's total offense.

Anderson worked at Trinity Valley Community College (1995-98) before joining the Division I FCS ranks at New Mexico. In 1998, he was the offensive coordinator and the Cardinals went 7-3. He helped lead the Cardinals to the 1997 NJCAA National Championship.

A two-year letterwinner at wide receiver for Sam Houston State from 1989-91, Anderson was named Southland Conference All-Academic as a senior. He also played for two years as a quarterback and receiver at Baylor (1987-89) before transferring. WALT BELL

Tight ends coach
Co-Recruiting Coordinator
First Year at UNC

Walt Bell enters his first season at Carolina's tight ends coach after coaching wide receivers with Larry Fedora at Southern Miss.

Bell was part of a Southern Miss offensive staff that helped the Golden Eagles establish school records for total offense with 6,459 yards in 2011. USM was 17th in the nation in total offense and 14th in scoring offense as the Golden Eagles had the best season in school history.

Southern Miss won the Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and then won its school-record 12th game of the year by beating Nevada in the Hawaii Bowl.

Bell's wide receivers were a big reason for USM's success. The top four receivers all had more than 30 receptions and accounted for 21 of the Golden Eagles' 32 receiving touchdowns. Kelvin Bolden led the team with 58 catches for 671 yards and had seven touchdowns. Senior Ryan Ballentine led the team in yards (742) and touchdowns (8) on 49 catches.

Before becoming a full-time assistant at USM, Bell spent one season as the team's offensive graduate assistant in 2010. With his input, the Golden Eagles set new offensive records for production that year, including a then-school record 5,834 yards and 453.38 yards per game.

Prior to coming to Southern Miss, Bell spent a season as a quality control coach at Oklahoma State. Before OSU, Bell worked two years as a graduate assistant at Memphis following his playing days at Middle Tennessee.

The Dickson, Tenn., native earned both his bachelor's degree (criminal justice administration, 2005) and master's degree (sports management, 2006) from MTSU.

GUNTER BREWER

Passing Game Coordinator
Wide Receivers Coach
Sixth Year at UNC

Returning for his second coaching stint in Chapel Hill is Gunter Brewer, who will serve as the Tar Heels' passing game coordinator and wide receivers coach. Brewer has coached three Biletnikoff Award finalists in his coaching career, including two winners, and most recently served as the associate head coach at Mississippi in 2011.

Brewer was the lone assistant coach who remained on the Mississippi staff after Houston Nutt was dismissed at the end of the 2011 season. He headed up a transition team and had been asked to reamin on the new Ole Miss staff.

This is also the second time Brewer has coached with UNC head coach Larry Fedora. The two were on Mike Gundy's Oklahoma State's offensive staff for three years in 2005-07.

Brewer spent six seasons (2005-10) at Oklahoma State and served in various capacities, including as co-offensive coordinator, passing game coordinator, receivers coach and quarterbacks coach. His term in Stillwater included five bowl appearances and the program's first Big 12 South Championship in 2010.

Brewer recruited and served as the position coach for Justin Blackmon, a unanimous first-team All-America who won the Biletnikoff Award presented to the nation's top receiver. Blackmon finished the 2010 season as the national leader in receiving yards per game and was second in receptions per game. His 1,782 receiving yards were the most ever for a sophomore in NCAA history, and he set another NCAA record with 12 consecutive games with at least 100 yards receiving and a touchdown.

Blackmon is the third Biletnikoff Award finalist Brewer has coached, joining Randy Moss (1997 winner) and Dez Bryant (2008 runner-up). Moss and Bryant are also among 16 Brewer pupils that have gone on to professional football careers.

Brewer's work with the Cowboy wide receivers was key in OSU finishing the 2010 season ranked second in the nation in passing offense and third in the nation in both total offense and scoring offense.

With Brewer as co-offensive coordinator, the Cowboys offense produced a pair of first-team All-Americas in Bryant and running back Kendall Hunter, to go with first-round NFL Draft picks in lineman Russell Okung and tight end Brandon Pettigrew.

In 2008, Brewer's offensive unit finished top-10 nationally in rushing, total offense, scoring and pass efficiency. He was also the position coach for quarterback Zac Robinson, who was a finalist for the Manning Award and ranked fifth nationally in pass efficiency and 18th nationally in total offense.

Brewer coached Biletnikoff semifinalist Adarius Bowman to consecutive 1,000-yard receiving seasons in 2006 and 2007, while D'Juan Woods was a 2005 all-Big 12 pick and ended his career as OSU's third all-time leading receiver in both receptions and yards.

Brewer's stint at Oklahoma State was preceded by a five-year period at North Carolina (2000-04), where he coached three receivers who ranked among the top 20 in UNC history in receiving yards – Sam Aiken, Chesley Borders and Jaworski Pollock.

Brewer's other career stops include Wake Forest, East Tennessee State and Northeast Mississippi Community College, where he served as head coach in 1995.

Brewer was a two-year letterwinner as a receiver at Wake Forest, where he earned his degree in science and health sports in 1987. In 1989, he was awarded a master's in education with a specialization in exercise physiology from Ole Miss.

DAN DISCH

Defensive Coordinator
Secondary Coach
First Year at UNC

Dan Disch (pronounced DISH) enters his first season at North Carolina where he will serve as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach. Disch served in the same role under head coach Larry Fedora last year at Southern Miss where he installed his brand of the 4-2-5 defensive scheme.

In 2011, the Golden Eagles improved from 75th nationally in pass efficiency defense to seventh, and were ranked 22nd in rushing defense, allowing just 112.6 rushing yards per game. Disch's defense set an NCAA record with eight interceptions returned for touchdowns.

Overall, USM ranked 29th in total defense and 28th in scoring defense as the Golden Eagles won the 2011 Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and then won their school-record 12th game over Nevada in the Hawaii Bowl. In the final regular season top 25 polls, Southern Miss was No. 21 in the USA Today Coaches poll and No. 22 in the Associated Press poll.

Before arriving in Hattiesburg, Disch spent six seasons at Illinois, where he served as the special teams coordinator/outside linebackers coach (2005), special teams coordinator/linebackers coach (2006), co-defensive coordinator/linebackers (2007-09) and linebackers coach (2010). He served under Ron Zook for seven seasons, including one year at Florida (2004) where he coached the secondary. Fedora also was a member of the Gator staff in 2004.

At Carolina, Disch will be reunited on the defensive staff with Vic Koenning. The two worked together for one season at Illinois in 2010.

Disch's linebackers were a strong point of the Illini defense in 2010, as Martez Wilson collected 112 tackles, tied for fourth in the Big Ten. Wilson also ranked among Big Ten leaders in tackles for loss. In 2009, one of Disch's linebackers again led the team in tackles and ranked among the Big Ten leaders as Ian Thomas racked up 95 stops.

In 2008, for the third-straight season, Illinois' middle linebacker led the Big Ten in tackles and was a first-team All-Big Ten selection. After J Leman in 2006 and 2007, Brit Miller averaged 11.0 tackles per game. The Illini also led the Big Ten in tackles for loss and sacks, in which Miller was also the team leader.

Disch's 2007 Fighting Illini defense was one of the best in the Big Ten, led by consensus All-American and first-team All-Big Ten selection Leman. The heart of the Illini defense, Leman finished sixth on the Illinois career tackles list and ranked fifth in all-time tackles for loss. Illinois finished 20th in the AP top 25 poll and played Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl, the school's first appearance in the Rose Bowl since 1984.

In 2006, Disch's linebacking corps helped the Illini make a large improvement in total and rushing defense. The team bettered its numbers from the 2005 season by over 160 total yards. Leman earned first-team All-Big Ten honors as well as honorable mention Sports Illustrated All-America honors. He led the Big Ten with 12.7 tackles per game and ranked 10th in the nation in TFL per game.

As the special teams coach for the Illini in 2005, Disch tutored All-Big Ten and All-America punter Steve Weatherford who, with a 42.6 average, became the school's all-time leader in punting average.

In 2004 at Florida, Disch rebuilt a secondary that lost all four starters from the previous year, yet his new group still recorded 16 interceptions. The production came from a group that entered the season with just four career picks. Safety Jarvis Herring ranked third in the SEC in interceptions per game, while corner Dee Webb was fourth in passe defended.

Prior to entering the collegiate ranks, Disc spent 22 years coac ing high school foot ball in the Jackson ville, Fla., area, including 16 seasons as th head coach o Ed White High School, where he posted a record of 122-55 to become the school's all-time winningest coach. While under Disch's lead, Ed White made 11 playoff appearances, won seven district and six conference championships, and reached the state quarterfinals four times. Ed White also was ranked in the Top-10 of the state's final football poll eight times. Additionally, five of Disch's hig school assistant coaches went on to land head coaching jobs.

Disch is a 1981 graduate of Flori da State University. He was born in Jacksonville, Fla., and is married to the former Janet Johnson. The couple has three daughters: Chandler, Erica and Virginia.

DAVID DUGGAN

Outside Linebackers Coach
Special Teams Coordinator
First Year at UNC

After four seasons as the linebackers coach at Southern Miss, David Duggan (pronounced DOUG-an) comes to Chapel Hill with head coach Larry Fedora and will coach outside linebackers and serve as the special teams coordinator.

Duggan served as USM's co-defensive coordinator in 2011 as the Golden Eagles posted their best season in school history. Southern Miss won the Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and then won its school-record 12th game of the year by beating Nevada in the Hawaii Bowl.

In 2011, Southern Miss finished second in the league in total defense, second in rushing defense and first in pass defense efficiency. A pair of Duggan's linebackers – Ronnie Thornton and Jamie Collins – led the team with 111 and 98 tackles, respectively. Both were named honorable mention all-conference.

Duggan's linebackers were a model of consistency in 2010 as his three primary starters combined for 230 tackles, 6.5 sacks and 26 tackles for loss.

Duggan began his tenure with the Golden Eagles in 2008 after serving as the head coach of the Cologne Centurions of NFL Europe from 2006-07. During his time as head coach, his defense ranked No. 1 in the league both seasons.

His history with the league stretched back to the 2000 season as he worked as defensive coordinator for Cologne from 2003-05 and in the same role for the Berlin Thunder from 2000-03. His defenses ranked No. 1 in the league in both seasons as an assistant at Cologne and he twice was a member on the staff that won the World Bowl (IX in 2001 and X in 2002) with Berlin.

Prior to his experience in NFL Europe, Duggan was the defensive coordinator at Brown University from 1997-2000, during which time the team won the 1999 Ivy League crown.

Duggan went to Brown after working at Colgate (1995-97) as the inside/outside linebackers coach. The Raiders captured the 1996 Patriot League title and played in the Division I-AA playoffs that season.

Duggan was the inside linebackers coach at Holy Cross from 1992-95 after spending 1988-1992 at New Hampshire, his alma mater, as the inside linebackers coach. He helped lead UNH to the team to the 1991 Yankee Conference championship and the Division I-AA playoffs that year.

His first coaching job was at Alleghany College (1987-88), where he was the inside linebackers coach. The Gators captured the 1987 North Coast Athletic Conference crown and participated in the NCAA Division III national playoffs.

Duggan earned his bachelor's degree from New Hampshire in 1986 and was a member of the football team from 1982-86, serving as a co-captain his senior season.

He and wife Lynne have two daughters, Olivia and Grace.

LOU HERNANDEZ

Head Strength & Conditioning Coach for Football
First Year at UNC

Lou Hernandez enters his first season as North Carolina's head football strength and conditioning coach.

Hernandez was an assistant strength and conditioning coach at Florida from 2002-04 when Fedorda was an offensive assistant under Ron Zook. UNC defensive coordinator Dan Disch was also on that Gator staff in 2004.

Hernandez spent the previous seven years on the Illinois staff as the head strength coach under football coach Ron Zook. He coordinated the entire strength program for the football team as well as assisting with nutritional aspects of the players' diets. At Illinois, he also worked with Carolina's associate head coach for defensive Vic Koenning. Illinois won back-to-back bowl games in 2010 and 2011 for the first time in school history.

During his time at Illinois, Hernandez turned around the strength program. When he began in 2005, there was just one player with a 300-pound or better power clean. Five years later, the team averaged close to 35 a year. Only one player in 2005 could bench over 405 and by 2010 that number was in double-figures.

Hernandez helped train five first-round NFL draft picks in Champaign, including Rashard Mendenhall (Pittsburgh) in 2008, Vontae Davis (Miami) in 2009, Corey Liuget (San Diego) in 1011 and Whitney Mercilus (Houston) and A.J. Jenkins (San Francisco) in 2012. That marked the first time Illinois had produced five first-round draft picks in a five-year span.

Hernandez worked for three seasons at Florida as the assistant director of strength and conditioning from 2002-04. He moved to Florida after serving on the New York Jets staff.

Prior to his one-year stint with the Jets, Hernandez spent 10 years at the University of Houston, including five years as the director of the program.

A native of Alice, Texas, Hernandez earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from the University of Houston in 1992 and his master's degree in exercise and health-related fitness from Houston in 1994. Hernandez is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Hernandez and his wife, Kristin, have two daughters, Romy Ella and Katirena Rose.

RANDY JORDAN

Running Backs Coach
First Year at UNC

Randy Jordan, a 1993 University of North Carolina graduate returns to his alma mater as running backs coach. Most recently Jordan tutored the running backs at Texas A&M for four seasons.

A nine-year NFL running back, Jordan began his coaching career with the Oakland Raiders as a special teams assistant midway through the 2003 season. He then coached four years at Nebraska under head coach Bill Callahan.

Jordan was on the Aggie sideline when they knocked off Northwestern, 33-22, in the 2011 Meineke Car Care Bowl of Texas. Reserve running back Ben Malena rushed for 77 yards and two touchdowns while filling in for Cyrus Gray, a second-team All-Big 12 selection, who was out with a shoulder injury. Under Jordan's tutelage, Gray was a three-time All-Big 12 performer and ranks third in conference history in all-purpose yards.

In 2011, Texas A&M ranked 24th in the country in with 199.2 rushing yards per game. The Aggies appeared in bowl games in each of the last three seasons Jordan was at Texas A&M, including the Meineke Car Care Bowl in 2011, the Cotton Bowl vs. LSU in 2010 and the Independence Bowl vs. Georgia in 2009.

Jordan came to Aggieland from Lincoln where he served as the running backs coach for the Cornhuskers since 2004. Jordan's creativity and enthusiasm shaped the I-back position into a multiple-threat weapon. He coached two 1,000-yard rushers in Marlon Lucky in 2007 and Cody Ross in 2004.

Jordan oversaw a Nebraska committee of I-backs in 2006 that produced nearly 2,400 rushing yards and 26 rushing touchdowns in the powerful West Coast Offense. An improved effort on the ground helped NU move from 107th in 2005 to 23rd nationally in rushing offense in 2006.

Brandon Jackson led the way with 989 rushing yards with seven touchdowns before leaving for the NFL Draft following his junior season. Jackson was a second-round pick by the Green Bay Packers, and was the highest drafted I-back from Nebraska since 1996.

Jordan's guidance helped Cory Ross join an elite group in 2004, as Ross became the 20th Husker to record 1,000 rushing yards in a season when he ranked fifth in the conference and 23rd nationally with 100.2 rushing yards per game. As a group, Nebraska's backs averaged 176.8 yards per contest in the first season of the West Coast Offense.

Jordan played nine years in the NFL as a running back, playing in 122 career games from 1993 through 2002. He began his career with the Los Angeles Raiders before joining the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars in 1995 and playing three seasons. Jordan holds the distinction of scoring the very first touchdown for the Jacksonville club, a 71-yard reception against Cincinnati in 1995.

After the 1997 season, Jordan rejoined the Raiders' organization where he played five more seasons. In 1998, Jordan rushed for 159 yards for the Raiders. He had a career-high 213 yards rushing and three touchdowns in helping the Raiders reach the AFC Championship Game in 2000. He also caught 27 passes for 299 yards and a touchdown that same season.

Jordan finished his career with 574 yards rushing and seven touchdowns, while making 58 catches for 596 yards and two touchdowns. Jordan was also a standout special teams player. He was the special teams captain for the 2002 Oakland Raider squad that reached Super Bowl XXXVII. He finished his career with 801 yards on 38 career kick returns, including a season best of 553 yards on 26 returns for Jacksonville in 1996.

Jordan recorded 64 career tackles on special teams, including a career-best 14 in 1999. He was the recipient of the NFL Unsung Hero Award and the Ed Block Courage Award in 2001.

Jordan played for the University of North Carolina and head coach Mack Brown from 1989 to 1992. He earned three letters for the Tar Heels rushing for 1,134 yards and nine touchdowns in his career, including 618 yards and seven touchdowns in 1991.

Jordan earned his degree in speech communication from North Carolina in 1993. He was born in Manson, North Carolina. Jordan and his wife, Romonda, have a daughter, Raven, and two sons, Jalen and Justin.

CHRIS KAPILOVIC

Run Game Coordinator
Offensive Line Coach
First Year at UNC

Chris Kapilovic (pronounced kuh-PILL-o-vick) enters his first season as Carolina's run game coordinator and offensive line coach after four years in a similar capacity at Southern Miss under head coach Larry Fedora.

In three of Kapilovic's four years in Hattiesburg, Southern Miss set the school record for total offense, including a mark of 6,459 yards in 2011. Under his direction, the offensive line helped the Golden Eagles reach the 5,000-yard mark in total offense in all four seasons. Kapilovic and company broke the previous total offense record of 5,894 they set in 2010. It was also the fifth-straight year Southern Miss had rushed for more than 2,000 yards.

In 2011, Southern Miss won the Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and then won its school-record 12th game of the year by beating Nevada in the Hawaii Bowl.

Kapilovic was promoted to run game coordinator in 2010, and in each of his two seasons in that capacity Southern Miss rushed for more than 200 yards per game. In 2011, USM was one of just 11 FBS programs that averaged more than 200 yards per game in both rushing and passing. Three Southern Miss offensive linemen were named All-CUSA in 2011, including first-team performer Lamar Holmes.

Kapilovic came to Southern Miss after spending two seasons as the offensive line coach and run game coordinator at his alma mater, Missouri State. The Bears ranked No. 24 nationally in total offense (414.3), No. 25 in rushing offense (202.9) and No. 10 in scoring offense (36.3) in 2007.

Prior to his stint in Springfield, Kapilovic worked with the offensive line as an assistant coach for five years at Alabama State. He also had offensive coordinator duties for the Hornets in his last three seasons. ASU led the league in rushing yards in two of his final three seasons and the Hornets averaged over 32 points per game during his time of sharing offensive coordinator duties.

The Hornets finished No. 16 nationally in total offense in 2004 and No. 9 in 2005 and led the SWAC in fewest sacks allowed in 2004.

Several offensive linemen Kapilovic has coached have gone on to the NFL and former Alabama State quarterback Tavaris Jackson was a second-round pick by the Minnesota Vikings in 2006.

Kapilovic started his coaching career as a student assistant at Missouri State. After leaving MSU, Kapilovic spent time as offensive coordinator at Deer Valley High in Glendale, Ariz., as offensive line and strength coach at Phoenix College and as a graduate assistant coach for the offensive line at the University of Kansas.

As a player, Kapilovic lettered for two seasons, 1989 and 1990, for the Bears and was a member of the school's only Gateway Conference championship teams those two seasons as they also made their only appearances in the Division I-AA playoffs those years. He was a starter and Gateway first-team selection during his senior campaign in 1990. He also played two seasons at Scottsdale (Ariz.) Community College.

Kapilovic and wife Fiona, have two children, Carsen and Colin.

VIC KOENNING

Associate Head Coach for Defense
Inside Linebackers Coach
First Year at UNC

Vic Koenning (pronounced KOH-ning) joins the Carolina coaching staff as the Tar Heels' associate head coach for defense and inside linebackers coach.

Carolina will be Koenning's second tour of duty in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was Clemson's defensive coordinator from 2005-08 where he accomplished something no other Tiger defensive coordinator had accomplished in the school's history. Each of his four Clemson defenses finished in the top 25 in scoring, total, and pass efficiency defense.

Koenning left Clemson and spent one season at Kansas State under Bill Snyder and two seasons at Illinois under head coach Ron Zook. He improved the Illini defense from 91st in the country in 2009 to 38th in 2010 and seventh in 2011. Illinois gave up just 291.8 yards per game and ranked fourth in the nation in pass defense, fifth in tackles for losses and ninth in sacks. Illinois defensive end Whitney Mercilus led the nation in sacks and was second in tackles for losses. Koenning led Illinois to a 20-14 win over UCLA in the Kraft Fight Hunger bowl on Dec. 31 as the team's interim head coach.

Koenning's first season with the Illini was an unquestioned success as he improved Illinois' defense from 76th in the country in rushing defense to 32nd, 96th to 48th in scoring defense, 100th to 61st in passing defense and 83rd to 22nd in turnover margin while serving as defensive coordinator and secondary coach.

In 2009, he helped Kansas State improve from 112th in the NCAA in rushing defense in 2008 to 16th in 2009, total defense from 117th to 40th and scoring defense from 110th to 48th. KSU allowed 140 yards fewer last season than in 2008 and 12 points per game less than the previous year.

In 2008, Clemson's defense led the ACC in scoring defense and ranked ninth in the nation by allowing just 16.6 points per game. The unit also was 12th in the nation in pass defense, 11th in pass efficiency defense, tied for eighth in interceptions and 16th in total defense.

The 2007 defensive performance might have been the best of his tenure at Clemson. The Tigers had just one player make first or second-team All-ACC despite leading the ACC in pass defense and turnover margin, and finishing second in total and scoring defense. Clemson was ninth in the nation in total defense (307 ypg), and 10th in scoring defense (18.7 ppg).

Koenning developed several Clemson players to the NFL. In 2006, cornerback Tye Hill, now with the St. Louis Rams, was a first-round draft pick, while defensive end Gaines Adams, who passed away in Jan. of 2010, was the No. 4 overall selection in 2007. Defensive end Phillip Merling was the No. 32 overall selection of the 2008 draft by Miami.

Koenning built a strong résumé in two seasons at Troy from 2003-04. He led its defense to a top-10 NCAA finish in scoring, rushing and pass efficiency defense and yards per play in 2004.

BUBBA CUNNINGHAM

Athletic Director
First Year at UNC

Lawrence R. (Bubba) Cunningham is the director of athletics at the University of North Carolina. Cunningham comes to Chapel Hill after spending the previous six years as the director of athletics at the University of Tulsa.

Cunningham officially began his duties at Carolina on November 14, 2011, succeeding long-time AD Dick Baddour. Cunningham is the seventh director of athletics in UNC history, following Robert A. Fetzer (1923-52), Chuck Erickson (1953-67), Homer Rice (1969-75), Bill Cobey (1976-80), John Swofford (1980-97) and Baddour (1998-2012).

Cunningham is in his 10th year as a Division I director of athletics. In addition to his tenure at Tulsa, he was the AD for three years from 2002-2005 at Ball State University.

He was honored as the 2008-09 FBS Central Region Athletics Director of the Year, an award presented by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

"Bubba Cunningham is an outstanding choice," said Atlantic Coast Conference commissioner and former UNC Athletic Director John Swofford. "He is a quality administrator and terrific person. Bubba is a highly respected and proven Athletics Director who fits in extremely well at UNC and is a welcome addition around our ACC table."

Cunningham's first task at North Carolina was to hire a permanent football coach. After a nationwide search, Cunningham landed charismatic Larry Fedora from Southern Miss. Fedora coached four seasons in Hattiesburg and compiled a 34-19 record, including a school-record 12 wins and a CUSA championship in 2011. Cunningham introduced Fedora at a packed press conference in Kenan Stadium's Blue Zone in December.

With his first hire officially on board, Cunningham focused his attention on other areas of the department. He is developing a strategic plan for the future of Carolina athletics, identifying the department's strength and weaknesses and exploring opportunities for the future. He also commissioned a compliance review by an outside firm and is designing a master plan for UNC's facilities.

At Tulsa, Cunningham guided the Golden Hurricane through its initial move to Conference USA and spearheaded a $60 million athletics initiative, which included a $20 million renovation to Skelly Field at H.A. Chapman Stadium, a goal of $20 million for an athletics scholarship endowment and $20 million for coaches' salary endowment.

Cunningham implemented and developed a strategic plan for personal and professional growth and development for Tulsa's student-athletes, coaches and staff. He presided over the completion of the $8.5 million Case Athletic Complex, which houses football offices and academic support center for student-athletes.

Entering the 2011-12 season, Tulsa had won 34 league championships, more than any other school in Conference USA. Men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's soccer, softball, men's and women's tennis and volleyball participated in post-season play. The football program played in five bowl games in his last six years, winning four of those games.

Cunningham hired former Tulsa football coach Todd Graham, who led the Golden Hurricane to three 10-win seasons in a four-year span, the first time it had been accomplished in school history.

Tulsa student-athletes excelled academically, earning 17 ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America performances over the last five years. More than 170 student-athletes earned Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll accolades each season, including 199 in 2009-10, and 11 student-athletes won C-USA Scholar Athlete of the Year honors.

In 2010-11, the Golden Hurricane finished 51st nationally in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup, Tulsa's highest finish in the history of the competition.

Tulsa hosted the 2011 NCAA Basketball Second & Third Rounds and the 2008 NCAA Men's and Women's Division I Tennis National Championship.

At Ball State, Cunningham led a program with 19 intercollegiate sports and a budget of $12.4 million. In his final year, Ball State completed a $12 million campaign to renovate the football stadium. In raising those funds, Cunningham secured the largest single gift in Ball State athletics history.

Under the leadership of Brady Hoke, whom Cunningham hired in 2003, the Cardinals played the first-ever night game in Ball State Stadium and developed a marketing plan that helped set a record for football season attendance. He was able to secure funding exclusively from private donors to have permanent lights installed at Ball State Stadium.

From 1988-2002, Cunningham worked in the athletics department at the University of Notre Dame. Cunningham served as associate director of athletics for external affairs from 2000-02. He renegotiated the school's footwear contract, developed a communications and marketing plan, created marketing teams for all 26 varsity sports, increased corporate sponsorship income, created a financial/equity plan for the department and served as chairman of the NCAA Division I Women's Golf Committee.

He served as Notre Dame's associate athletics director for finance and facilities from 1995-2000. Cunningham was responsible for developing an equity plan to meet Title IX requirements, completed the master plan for athletic facilities, coordinated the bid process and negotiation with Westwood for football radio rights and helped plan and complete the $50 million renovation and 20,000-seat expansion of Notre Dame Stadium. He also coordinated the planning and construction of the Warren Golf Course, an 18-hole championship course on the Notre Dame campus.

Cunningham earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in business administration, both from Notre Dame, in 1984 and 1988, respectively. He played on the Irish golf team in 1982-83.

Cunningham serves on the NCAA Division I Men's Golf Committee, is a member of NACDA's Executive Committee, and was on the Board of Directors of the Alzheimers Association of Oklahoma and the Folds of Honor Foundation Board. Cunningham also served on the Gatorade National Advisory Board and has been a featured speaker at numerous NACDA and I-A institute conferences.

Born in Flint, Mich., and raised in Naples, Fla., Cunningham and his wife, Tina, have four children: Matthew, Michael, John and Sarah.

Bubba Cunningham and his family were introduced to the crowd at Kenan Stadium last fall.

CHANCELLOR

Holden Thorp

"Carolina students are inspired to tackle the great problems facing the world."

At Carolina, Holden Thorp has been an undergraduate student, a chemistry professor, a planetarium director, an inventor and entrepreneur, and a dean. He graduated with honors, won teaching awards, chaired a powerhouse chemistry department, developed technology for electronic DNA chips, founded spin-off companies, and succeeded as an administrator.

In 2008, he became Carolina's 10th chancellor and draws from three decades of experiences on a campus he has loved his entire life.

A North Carolina native, Thorp grew up in a Fayetteville family steeped in UNC traditions dating to the 1800s. When he graduated from Terry Sanford High School, the only college on his application list was Carolina, where he earned a bachelor of science degree with honors in 1986.

Attending a world-class research university — where the same people conduct research and teach — allowed Thorp to work in chemistry labs with top faculty and inspired him to become a professor. He pursued that dream at the California Institute of Technology, where he earned a doctorate in chemistry in 1989, and at Yale University for postgraduate work. After teaching a year at NC State, he returned to UNC to teach chemistry in 1993. He was chair of the chemistry department and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences before becoming chancellor.

Thorp is driven to be sure that UNC students today have the same opportunities that he had as an undergraduate. "Carolina students are inspired to tackle the great problems facing the world," he says.

Thorp's priorities include protecting Carolina's legendary commitment to providing a high-quality education at an affordable price — core values that have kept the University and the chancellor in the spotlight as leaders during a national debate about college costs and the future of U.S. higher education. Thorp was among a dozen college presidents and higher education leaders invited to the White House with the president to discuss how campuses can become more affordable while producing more graduates.

The chancellor serves on the national Commission on Higher Education Attainment, which was created by the six presidentially based higher education associations to chart a course for improving college retention and attainment and, in turn, restoring the nation's higher education preeminence. He is also on the national Homeland Security Academic Advisory Council.

Under Thorp's leadership, UNC launched "Innovate@Carolina: Important Ideas for a Better World," a roadmap for innovation in science, business, medicine, nonprofits and academia. He serves on the president's National Advisory Council on Innovation and Entrepreneurship, which held its first national forum in Chapel Hill.

He co-authored "Engines of Innovation — The Entrepreneurial University in the 21st Century," a UNC Press book that makes the case for the pivotal role of research universities as agents of societal change. Royalties support innovation at UNC. He has published 130 scholarly articles on the electronic properties of DNA and RNA and co-founded Viamet Pharmaceuticals, which is developing drugs for prostate cancer and fungal infections.

An accomplished musician who plays jazz bass and keyboard, Thorp is married to Patti Worden Thorp, a Hope Mills native and UNC Greensboro graduate. Their children are John and Emma.

KENAN STADIUM

Carolina football plays its home games at Kenan Memorial Stadium (cap. 63,000), one of the most picturesque athletic venues in America. Kenan Stadium has been the home of the Tar Heels since 1927 and the thrill of playing in or attending a game there is as exhilarating now as it was when it was first constructed.

Considering its majestic setting among the Carolina pines, many observers say Kenan Stadium is the most beautiful football facility in the country. For scenery, atmosphere and charm, it cannot be surpassed.

The stadium has been expanded several times since its completion in 1927. In each instance, though, great care was taken to keep its fundamental beauty intact.

In 2011, Carolina opened the Loudermilk Center for Excellence and a premium seating section named the Blue Zone. Alumnus R. Charles "Charlie" Loudermilk Sr. of Atlanta made a $7.5 million donation to fund the 150,000 square-foot facility that serves all of Carolina's nearly 800 student-athletes across 28 sports.

The Loudermilk Center's largest feature is the John W. Pope Student-Athlete Academic Support Center. This 29,000 square-foot facility provides classrooms for teaching and tutoring, advanced computer technology, a writing lab, reading rooms and office space. It is also home to the Baddour Carolina Leadership Academy, which offers leadership training to Carolina student-athletes, coaches and staff. A $3 million gift from the Raleigh-based John William Pope Foundation funded the academic support center.

Also housed in the Loudermilk Center is a strength and conditioning center for Carolina's Olympic sports programs, facilities for men's lacrosse and a visitor's locker room that can be split to host high school football championships. Other features include premium seating for fans watching football games, as well as office and operations space for the department of athletics.

The Blue Zone, offers 1,836 seats in the Concourse Club/Loge just a few feet from the field, 824 seats in the Upper Club/Loge on the fourth floor and 320 seats in 20 suites on the fifth floor. Combined, the project adds 2,980 seats to the stadium's capacity. The project will also tie the north and south concourses together and will provide the stadium with 360 degree concourse to enhance fan movement in the facility.

For more information and photos of the Carolina Student-Athlete Center for Excellence, please visit NewKenan.com.

Located in the west end zone, the Kenan Football Center was completed in 1997 and houses the operational needs of the Carolina football program. The football center includes the UNC locker room, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, computer labs and study areas, 100-plus seat auditorium, coaches' offices, theater and Hall of Honor.

An additional floor was added to the Kenan Football Center after the 2008 season. The fifth floor contains additional office and recruiting space for the day-to-day operations of the football program, four pregame gathering areas, a larger video and studio facility and a state-of-the-art press conference area. The recruiting

THE STADIUM

"One moment you are deep in the green and the blaze of autumn leaves, and the next the curtain has disappeared, the land falls away and the panorama of long, graceful lines and gently sweeping curves spreads out ... The picture fits exactly; it was made for its frame and its frame for it."
– Carolina Alumni Review, Fall 1927

Kenan Memorial Stadium remains today as it was nearly a century ago – quite simply one of the most picturesque athletic venues in America. UNC's alumni magazine saluted the natural beauty of the new stadium upon its opening on Nov. 24, 1927; some 28,000 fans watched as the Tar Heels edged Virginia by one point.

Since then, Kenan Stadium has been home to great teams and outstanding players and the battleground for thousands of memorable football games on crystalline autumn Saturdays. From modest beginnings—single levels of seats on each side of the playing field and a simple field house—the facility has evolved with the times but has preserved its aesthetic appeal. Among the significant expansion projects have been the addition of the upper decks in 1963; the construction of the south side press box, installation of permanent lights and addition of 2,000 choice seats between the 40 yard-lines in 1988; the addition of some 8,000 seats in the west end zone bowl and the construction of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and the John Pope Box in 1997; the addition of the fifth floor to the Kenan Football Center in 2010; and now the addition of "Blue Zone" seating area in the east end zone and the opening of The Loudermilk Center for Excellence.

area and suites also are used as academic study areas during the week. The second floor was completely renovated for increased football meeting spaces, including bigger individual position meeting rooms and a larger team meeting room. The fourth floor renovations added additional office space for football support staff.

The Charlie Justice Hall of Honor, located on the ground floor, is a multi-media history of Carolina football. Photographs, awards, trophies and artifacts detailing the rich and storied history of the sport in Chapel Hill are on display. The James A. Heavner Theater was made possible by a special gift by the former executive producer of the Tar Heel Sports Network and president of Vilcom. The theater is a 30-person mini-theater equipped with surround sound and seven dramatic videos presenting the history of UNC football.

A number of rooms in the Kenan Football Center have been dedicated in the honor or memory of Carolina's benefactors, fans and athletic personalities. They include the Brinkley Lounge, the fourth floor reception area named for Harvey M. Brinkley Jr.; the Don McCauley/Paul Miller Head Coach's Suite; the Norman M. (Buddy) Black Jr. Lounge, the fourth floor hospitality area; the Oscar Davenport/Chris Keldorf Quarterback Meeting Room, as given by Bob Biggerstaff; the Jo Allison Clary Smith Weight Room; the Carolina Football Players' Locker Room, named in behalf of the more than 400 former Tar Heels who donated more than $2 million to the project; the Nassif Offensive Staff Meeting Room; the Ann and Paul Lawing Coaches' Locker Room; Koury Box North, box seating on the north side of the stadium named for Maurice J. Koury; the John W. Pope Academic Support Facility; the John W. Pope Stadium Box, a stadium box on the north side; the John D. Swofford Auditorium and the Jimmy W. Garrell coaches meeting room.

The 1997 expansion project, in which great care was taken to ensure that the surrounding environment would be altered as little as possible, was the first project to connect the north and south concourses to either end of the lower deck via the third level of the Kenan Center. That project also added nearly 8,000 seats, a state-of-the-art football facility, chancellor's box and preferred seating box. The Rams Club and its members committed more than $50 million to the project.

The football center is named in honor of the late Frank H. Kenan, one of the school's most generous benefactors. Kenan was a Durham resident and chief executive officer of Kenan Transport Company in Chapel Hill. He passed away at age 83 in 1996.

Kenan, a 1935 Carolina graduate, was the great-great-grandson of General James Kenan, a member of the University's founding board of trustees. An Atlanta native, Kenan had a tremendous impact on the growth of the University. He served on many campus boards, including the

THE KENAN FAMILY

James Kenan of Duplin was one of the original trustees of the fledgling campus in Chapel Hill and was present on Oct. 12, 1793, when the cornerstone to Old East was laid. Since then, the Kenan Family has held an integral role in the evolution of UNC as one of the top academic and athletic institutions in the nation.

William Rand Kenan Jr. & Bob Fetzer

William Rand Kenan Sr. and his wife Mary Hargrave Kenan are the namesakes for Kenan Memorial Stadium. Kenan was the grandson of James Kenan and the father of William Rand Kenan Jr., whose fortune made in the early 1900s in chemicals, power, railroads and hotels financed the construction of the stadium in 1926-27. William Jr., an 1894 Carolina graduate and Tar Heel halfback in football and later a professor in chemistry, honored his parents with the naming of the stadium.

Another branch of the Kenan family included Frank H. Kenan (right), a Tar Heel football player in the 1930s, a 1935 Carolina graduate and a successful businessman with interests in oil, trucking and real estate. Mr. Kenan had a tremendous impact on the growth of the University. He served on many campus boards, including the Board of Visitors and the Educational Foundation Board of Directors. He passed away in 1996 at the age of 83, just one year before seeing the new football center in his name open for the 1997 season.

Today the Kenan legacy lives on through the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, which has donated more than $100 million to schools in the state's consolidated university system, including Carolina, N.C. State and the N.C. School of the Arts. Among other things, the trust funds 92 William R. Kenan Jr. Professorships at 56 colleges and universities nationwide.

CHARLES LOUDERMILK

The Loudermilk Center for Excellence was made possible in part by a generous contribution from R. Charles Loudermilk Sr., a long-time friend and benefactor of UNC academic and athletic interests. Born in Atlanta, Mr. Loudermilk graduated from Carolina in 1950 with a degree in commerce and was good friends with many Tar Heels who made the Justice Era of the late 1940s such a memorable chapter in Tar Heel football.

In 1955, Mr. Loudermilk launched a furniture rental business in his hometown, naming it Aaron Rents so that it would be listed first in the phone book. The business grew into a multi-billion dollar concern and today is known as Aaron's, Inc.

Mr. Loudermilk in 2011 remained as chairman of the company. His past support of Carolina includes gifts to expand the Kenan-Flagler Business School's executive education facilities at the Rizzo Conference Center. He was also the major contributor toward the statue of Charlie Justice that stands outside the Kenan Football Center. Mr. Loudermilk's many honors include the William R. Davie Award, the highest recognition given by the UNC Board of Trustees. He has also served on the Board of Visitors of UNC's Kenan-Flagler Business School.

JOHN WILLIAM POPE FOUNDATION

The Raleigh-based John William Pope Foundation has a long history of providing funds for academic support in the Carolina Athletic Department. The academic support center connected to the original Kenan Field House was erected in the 1980s and later named for John W. Pope, a 1947 UNC graduate who contributed significantly to the Kenan Stadium expansion in the mid-1990s. This new building will carry on the tradition through the John W. Pope Student-Athlete Academic Support Center, a 29,000 square foot facility that provides classrooms for teaching and tutoring, advanced computer technology, a writing lab, reading rooms and office space. It is also the home to the Carolina Leadership Academy, which offers leadership training to Carolina student-athletes, coaches and staff. Mr. Pope took five discount variety stores started in Fuquay-Varina by his father, James, and turned them into Variety Wholesalers, a successful network of more than 500 stores that continues to flourish into the 21st century. Mr. Pope passed away in 2006, and today the company is led by James Arthur "Art" Pope of Raleigh, a 1978 Carolina graduate who is also chairman and president of the John William Pope Foundation, which funds numerous charities and free market oriented organizations.

Board of Visitors and the Educational Foundation Board of Directors.

In recent years the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, of which he was a trustee, has donated more than $100 million to schools in the state's consolidated university system, including Carolina, NC State and the N.C. School of the Arts. Among other things, the trust funds 92 William R. Kenan Jr. Professorships at 56 colleges and universities nationwide.

Kenan served on the steering committee of Carolina's Bicentennial Campaign, the University's largest fund-raising effort. Gifts by him, his family and the trust during the campaign exceeded $31 million. The largest portion of that was targeted for the business school. In 1991 the school was renamed the Kenan-Flagler Business School after a $10 million gift.

The preferred seating box that rises above the second deck of the grandstand on the north side of the stadium has outdoor seating for almost 1,200 spectators. That includes the Chancellor's Box on the second level of the box 45 feet above the ground. The fourth level, 68 feet high, has outdoor seating for more than 1,000, plus concessions and a 7,500 square foot lounge. There is a smaller lounge and food preparation areas on the third floor.

The Kenan Football Center and preferred seating box are the predominant changes in a multi-year renovation plan that began in 1995. A new playing field was installed that spring. The new turf includes an improved drainage system beneath the field that drains through the field itself rather than off the sides of the field as in the past. Prior to the 1996 season the restrooms and concession stands were expanded and renovated.

Another significant stadium expansion took place prior to 1988 and involved adding 2,000 choice seats between the 40-yard lines where the press box and chancellor's box formerly stood. A new press box was constructed on top of the upper deck on the stadium's south side. It is a one-level elongated structure, running from 10-yard line to 10-yard line.

Also part of the 1987-88 project were a permanent lighting system, a chancellor's lounge on the north side of the field and a football lettermen's lounge on the south side. The lights are part of a General Electric low-mount system which minimizes the height of the lightpoles. Cost of the entire project was $7 million. It was funded by private gifts and bonds.

William Rand Kenan Jr. deserves the credit for originally making the stadium a part of the University. He was born in North Carolina in 1873 and graduated from Carolina in 1894. An international industrialist, Kenan discovered carbide and made monumental progress in the field of chemistry. During his business career he was president of The Florida East Coast Railroad, The Florida East Coast Hotel Company, The West Palm Beach Water Company and the Florida East Coast Car Ferry Company.

He was a director of Florida Power and Light Company and built the first power plant in Miami in the early 1900s.

The stadium was built as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. Construction began in November 1926 and was completed the following August. Complete cost of the stadium and accompanying fieldhouse was $303,000.

Originally, the stadium was to be built through funds raised by alumni donations, and by June 1926, a group of nearly 40 alumni had contributed $27,926. At this time, however, a copy of the prospectus and plan of financing the stadium came into the hands of Kenan, who expressed an interest in the proposal. Kenan was considering establishing a memorial to his parents, and the pressing need for a stadium and the possibilities of the beauty, dignity and permanence it presented, suggested to him that the benefaction he contemplated may well take the form of a memorial stadium. The Stadium Committee immediately endorsed his proposal and on the very day in November 1926 on which Kenan visited the planned site, he announced his financial gift to build the stadium.

Kenan remained very interested in Kenan Stadium throughout his lifetime. In the 1950s he gave a $1,000,000 contribution to construct a second deck on the stadium. After Kenan's death in 1965 the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, which was established by his will, donated $1,000,000 to enlarge and modernize Kenan Fieldhouse.

In 1988 the Kenan Trust made another $1,000,000 gift to complete the new chancellor's box on the North Side. Another lasting memory of William R. Kenan Jr. is the Kenan Athletic Scholarship Endowment, valued at over $1,000,000. Each year a student-athlete is awarded a full scholarship from this fund.

Besides giving the stadium to the University, Mr. Kenan also sponsored and financed the famous Kenan Professorships. He was awarded the honorary degree of LL.D. by his alma mater in 1944.

In the first game played there, Carolina defeated Davidson, 27-0, on November 12, 1927.

Carolina's all-time record at Kenan Stadium is 249-162-16. The most points scored by the Tar Heels in Kenan came in the third game played there as Carolina whipped Wake Forest, 65-0, in the 1928 season opener.

As originally built, the stadium seated 24,000. However, in 1963 the benefactor added portable stands and then an upper deck to the permanent stands, which increased capacity to 48,000. That was expanded to 50,000 in 1979, 52,000 in 1988, 57,500 in 1997 and 60,000 in 1998.

At the East end of the stadium is the Kenan Fieldhouse, home of the Student-Athlete Development Center. A 20,000 square foot building, it is a one-of-a-kind facility. For study purposes, it contains a language lab, video room, computer lab, theatre-style lecture hall, several reading rooms and numerous tutorial rooms. UNC's academic counseling staff has the advantage of using the most modern techniques in assisting student-athletes.

Capacity crowds have come to be expected at Kenan. In 1997, the Tar Heels played in front of a record-shattering crowd of 62,000 on Nov. 8, 1997, as fifth-ranked Carolina battled No. 2 Florida State. The largest crowd to watch a game prior to the most recent major expansion was 54,300 as Carolina defeated N.C. State, 31-17, in 1994.

The 1983 season saw another first in the stadium — a game played under artificial lights. The Carolina-Duke game was played in the late afternoon so it could be televised throughout the ACC area. Portable lights were brought in since the second half was played after sunset. Portable lights were also used in the 1987 Clemson game which was televised nationally by ESPN.

The 1991 season opener versus Cincinnati and that season's Clemson game, which was televised nationally by ESPN, were the first true night games ever played at Kenan Stadium.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Bryn Renner threw for 277 yards and two touchdowns while setting an ACC record for accuracy in his first start, helping the Tar Heels beat James Madison 42-10 and giving Everett Withers his first win as interim head coach.

When it was over, Renner sought out Withers on the sideline and greeted him with a big hug. Withers had spent the past three seasons as defensive coordinator. But when chancellor Holden Thorp said the NCAA probe had caused too much cumulative damage to the university's reputation for Butch Davis to continue, Withers had his first head-coaching position in 24 seasons in college and the NFL.

The Tar Heels scored the first 21 points and led 28-7 at half when James Madison kicker Cameron Starke plunked the right upright on a 20-yard field goal just before the break.

Renner completed 22 of 23 passes, with his only mistake being an interception on a deep ball in the second quarter. The sophomore completed his first eight passes, including a 34-yard scoring strike to Dwight Jones to cap the game's opening drive. He hit on his last 14 to tie a school record for most consecutive completions in a game and ended with a 21-yard TD toss to Jones midway through the fourth.

Renner also set the ACC record for highest single-game completion percentage (95.7) with at least 20 attempts and finished just shy of the NCAA mark (95.8 percent) set by Tennessee's Tee Martin in 1998.

A pair of running backs who missed last season certainly helped, too.

Redshirt freshman Giovani Bernard suffered a knee injury in his third day of practice, while Ryan Houston opted to redshirt after being cleared to return at midseason amid the NCAA probe. While Houston ran for 59 yards and a TD on 16 carries, Bernard showed impressive burst and the patience to let his blocks develop. He had a 12-yard TD run on his second carry before finishing with 64 yards and two scores.

Carolina 24, Rutgers 22

Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Giovani Bernard rushed for 81 yards and two touchdowns to help North Carolina beat Rutgers 24-22. Bernard scored on runs of 60 and 6 yards for the Tar Heels (2-0), who overcame five turnovers to begin the season with consecutive wins for the third time in the last four seasons.

The Scarlet Knights (1-1) lost the ball on downs at their own 42 with 2:32 remaining, and the Tar Heels ran out the clock from there.

Bryn Renner was 20 of 26 for 273 yards and a touchdown for North Carolina, but he threw three interceptions. Dwight Jones had six catches for 135 yards and a score.

Chas Dodd was 25 of 47 for 243 yards and two touchdowns for the Scarlet Knights, who had no turnovers.

Bernard showed his speed to the outside on both of his scoring runs. Midway through the second quarter, the UNC running back took a toss to the right and outran Rutgers' defender to the corner. Bernard cut back to the middle of the field to elude another tackle, then sprinted away from the pursuit to give the Tar Heels a 14-6 lead.

On his scoring run late in the third quarter, Bernard bounced an inside run toward the left sideline to extend North Carolina's lead to 24-15.

The Scarlet Knights pulled within 24-22 on a 5-yard touchdown catch by Tim Wright with 10:40 remaining.

The Tar Heels led 17-12 at halftime despite dominating the first two quarters statistically. They outgained Rutgers 286-91 in the first half, even while running five fewer plays from scrimmage.

Renner got off to a fast start against Rutgers, throwing a 66-yard touchdown strike to Jones. Renner completed his first five passes, giving him a school-record 19 consecutive completions dating back to the opener.

Carolina 28, Virginia 17
September 17, 2011
Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Bryn Renner threw two touchdown passes and Ryan Houston ran for two scores to help North Carolina beat Virginia 28-17.

Giovani Bernard ran for 102 yards to lead a strong ground attack for the Tar Heels (3-0, 1-0), who won their first Atlantic Coast Conference opener in 11 years. Dwight Jones and Jheranie Boyd each had TD catches as the UNC offense put together an efficient and relatively mistake-free afternoon.

A week after committing five turnovers against Rutgers, the Tar Heels committed just one--though that fumbled snap near the goal line early in the fourth quarter came after they led 28-10.

Virginia (2-1, 0-1) moved the football, but the Cavaliers repeatedly squandered opportunities in the first half that could've made this a different game. Instead, they managed only a 41-yard touchdown catch by Max Millien in the third quarter and a 4-yard keeper by Michael Rocco with 5:09 left.

The Cavaliers finished with 468 total yards to outgain the Tar Heels (401). They also ran for 170 yards against a defense that ranked third nationally by allowing 30 yards per game. But they couldn't stop Bernard--who had run for 29 and 40 yards--in a ground attack that finished with 222 yards on 41 carries. Bernard finished with his first 100-yard game on just 12 carries.

North Carolina hadn't won an ACC opener since winning at Wake Forest in 2000, a skid that outlasted the tenures of two head coaches and constantly kept it fighting uphill in the league standings.

Houston punched in a pair of touchdowns at the goal line and had just 17 yards on nine carries in a role reminiscent of his past seasons as a short-yardage finisher. Renner had a perfectly thrown 18-yard touchdown to Boyd near the front left pylon for Carolina's first score, then threw a 17-yard scoring pass to Jones--who managed to get a foot down in bounds of the left side of the end zone--to push the lead to 21-3.

Georgia Tech 35, Carolina 28

Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA (AP) - Tevin Washington threw a long touchdown pass and ran for two scores, including a 5-yarder that gave No. 25 Georgia Tech a 35-28 victory over North Carolina.

The Tar Heels (3-1, 1-1 ACC) fought back from a 28-14 deficit going into the fourth quarter, tying the game on Giovani Bernard's 55-yard run with 7:22 left. Georgia Tech (4-0, 1-0) needed only four plays to respond.

Roddy Jones reached out to take a pitch from Washington that looked too far in front of the running back, going 48 yards down the sideline to the North Carolina 9. Two snaps later, Washington took it in for the winning score with 5:20 left.

Stephen Hill had a huge game for Georgia Tech with six receptions for 151 yards, including a 59-yard touchdown. Bernard rushed for 155 yards and two TDs.

While not nearly as dominating as they were in the first three games, Georgia Tech still had another big day offensively, piling up 312 yards on the ground with the triple-option and 496 yards in all.

Washington completed 10 of 14 passes for 184 yards, hooking up with Hill on Georgia Tech's seventh one-play scoring drive of the season midway through the second.

North Carolina's Bryn Renner completed 17 of 25 for 204 yards. The Tar Heels trailed 17-7 at halftime, but Renner and Bernard led them back.

Renner completed five straight passes on a lightning-quick, 74-yard drive to start the second half, capped by a 6-yard scoring pass to Nelson Hurst. Washington scored on a 1-yard run and Georgia Tech made the 2-point conversion for its biggest lead, but the Tar Heels didn't fade.

Carolina 35, East Carolina 20
October 1, 2011
Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium •
Greenville, N.C.

GREENVILLE, N.C. (AP) - Bryn Renner threw four touchdown passes while Giovani Bernard ran for 146 yards and a score to help North Carolina beat East Carolina 35-20 in a night game.

Renner threw for 230 yards, including a 75-yard touchdown to Erik Highsmith and a 47-yard TD toss to Dwight Jones in a dominating first-half performance by the Tar Heels (4-1). North Carolina scored the first 21 points and never looked back, rolling to 326 yards in the opening half and converting two early turnovers into quick touchdowns.

Dominique Davis and ECU's offense finally built some momentum in the third quarter, getting a touchdown pass to Lance Lewis and closing to within 28-13 entering the final quarter. But, while the Pirates managed to move the football most of the game, they never recovered from that disastrous start.

Renner and Jones connected for a second touchdown that ultimately turned away the Pirates' modest rally. With UNC facing a third-and-goal near the goaline, Jones snatched a high throw from Renner with his right hand and pulled it into his midsection despite wrestling with Pirates cornerback Emanuel Davis and falling to the turf. The impressive catch pushed the Tar Heels' lead to 35-13 with 6:55 left and sent many of the home fans who hadn't already bolted during halftime heading to the exits.

This game drew a rowdy crowd that prompted the school to offer standing-room only admission into Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium for about 600 fans, setting a new record attendance of 50,610.

But the energy that filled Dowdy-Ficklen didn't last, due both to the Tar Heels' early dominance and the Pirates' bumbling start.

Carolina 14, Louisville 7
October 8, 2011
Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Tailback Giovani Bernard and receiver Dwight Jones each scored touchdowns, as North Carolina overcame a slow start to win 14-7 against Louisville.

The Tar Heels (5-1) earned their eighth straight victory over a nonconference opponent. Bernard gained 109 yards on 25 carries to become the first Tar Heel to rush for at least 100 yards in four straight games since Ethan Horton did it five straight games in 1984.

Jones caught a 43-yard scoring strike from quarterback Bryn Renner. Jones won a tug-of-war with two Louisville defenders over the last four yards into the end zone.

Louisville (2-3) sacked Bryn Renner four times and held North Carolina to 62 yards of offense in the first half to keep the contest close. Cardinals kicker Chris Philpott missed field goals of 40 and 36 yards in the first half.

The Tar Heels nearly stalled out on their first scoring drive when Louisville's Marcus Smith sacked Renner for the second time in the game, creating a third-and-16.

A 14-yard reception by Christian Wilson made it fourth-and-2 at the Louisville 6, and the Cardinals defensive line then jumped offside, giving North Carolina a first-and-goal from the Louisville 3. Bernard then picked a clear path to the end zone to put the Tar Heels on the board.

Louisville's only successful drive came late. Freshman quarterback Teddy Bridgewater connected with tailback Dominique Brown from 18 yards out with 42 seconds left in the game.

The Cardinals failed to score on three decent chances, including the two field goal misses.

North Carolina linebacker Zach Brown picked off Bridgewater on second-and-17 from the North Carolina 30 to halt a 16-play Cardinals drive.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Jacory Harris passed for 267 yards and three touchdowns to help Miami beat North Carolina 30-24. The Hurricanes (3-3, 1-2 Atlantic Coast Conference) nearly lost a 24-point lead, surviving a sluggish second half for their first road win under Al Golden.

The Tar Heels scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns, cutting Miami's lead to 30-24 on a 20-yard catch by Reggie Wilkins with 46 seconds remaining. Curtis Campbell recovered the onside kick for North Carolina after Miami's LaRon Byrd was unable to secure the ball.

North Carolina moved the ball to Miami's 30 before Sean Spence sacked Renner. The Tar Heels had a final play from the Miami 37, but a pass to Bernard with laterals to Erik Highsmith and Jheranie Boyd was stopped after a 13-yard gain.

Bryn Renner passed for 288 yards and two touchdowns for the Tar Heels (5-2, 1-2), who trailed 27-3 late in the second quarter.

Giovani Bernard rushed for 110 yards and a touchdown, becoming the first North Carolina player to rush for at least 100 yards in five consecutive games since Ethan Horton in 1984.

Miami, which gained 263 of its 311 total yards in the first half, picked up its first win in five tries at North Carolina.

Miami's Lamar Miller entered the game as the ACC's leading rusher, but his streak of five consecutive 100-yard games ended. He managed just 29 yards.

Miami found other ways to move the ball, jumping on the Tar Heels for a 17-0 lead after one quarter. Miami led 14-0 before its defense ever took the field. Harris marched the Hurricanes 71 yards for a touchdown on the game's opening drive, capping the 13-play series with a 4-yard scoring pass to Mike James.

North Carolina's T.J. Thorpe lost a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, setting up the Hurricanes on the UNC 27.

Clemson 59, Carolina 38
October 22, 2011
Memorial Stadium • Clemson, S.C.

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) - Tajh Boyd tied a school record with five touchdown passes, defensive end Kourtnei Brown scored on interception and fumble returns and No. 8 Clemson improved to 8-0 for the first time in 11 years with a 59-38 victory over North Carolina.

The Tigers again put on an offensive display with 450 yards as Boyd matched Cullen Harper's 2007 mark.

North Carolina (5-3, 1-3) turned the ball over six times and tailback Giovani Bernard was held to 44 yards, ending his streak of five consecutive games with 100 yards rushing.

Clemson's DeAndre Hopkins had nine catches for a career-best 157 yards and standout freshman Sammy Watkins had eight receptions for 91 yards. Both also caught touchdowns from Boyd, who connected with five separate receivers.

But it took Brown's nose for the end zone to get the Tigers on track. They were ahead only 17-10 and had struggled to move the ball against North Carolina's defense when Brown took Bryn Renner's swing pass attempt 20 yards for the score to extend the lead.

The Tigers had already blown the game open when Brown scooped up Renner's fumble and took it 26 yards for a touchdown that made it 59-24, Clemson.

No Tiger defensive lineman had scored twice in a game since Walt Laraway had an interception and a blocked punt return for TDs against the Citadel in 1954.

Boyd was 27 of 46 passing for 367 yards, his fourth game this season over 300 yards. He also had a 1-yard touchdown run to start Clemson's big third quarter.

Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Redshirt freshman Giovani Bernard scored three touchdowns and had his sixth 100-yard rushing performance to help North Carolina beat Wake Forest 49-24, making the Tar Heels bowl eligible for the fourth straight season.

Bernard ran for a pair of touchdowns and had a 7-yard scoring catch in the first quarter, while North Carolina (6-3, 2-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) took advantage of a line of mistakes from the Demon Deacons (5-3, 4-2). Wake Forest had five turnovers - three on interceptions thrown by Tanner Price - after committing just five all season coming into the game, and the Tar Heels converted four of those into touchdowns.

It all led to a huge day for the UNC offense, which had a season-high 562 total yards and its best scoring output in seven years. It was also North Carolina's most points in an ACC game in a decade.

Bernard ran for 154 yards on 27 carries, while his short TD catch in the opening quarter was his first career scoring reception. He reached the 100-yard mark on a 4-yard carry early in the fourth, then broke off a 54-yard run late to finish 1 yard shy of matching his season-high. He also moved within 35 yards of becoming the first Tar Heel to run for 1,000 yards in a season since Jonathan Linton in 1997.

Bryn Renner completed 21 of 28 passes for a career-high 338 yards and three touchdowns, while top receiver Dwight Jones had six catches for 138 yards. Fellow wideout Erik Highsmith added his first two-TD performance, scoring on a 4-yard catch in the opening quarter and on a diving 38-yard grab early in the fourth that blew the game open.

UNC forced turnovers on Wake Forest's first two possessions and jumped to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter. The Tar Heels led 21-17 late in the third before turning it into a rout, getting a short touchdown run from Ryan Houston and Bernard's second 4-yard scoring run to push the lead to 35-17 less than a minute into the fourth.

NC State 13, Carolina 0
November 5, 2011
Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C.

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - North Carolina State beat North Carolina 13-0 to earn its fifth straight win against its nearby rival.

James Washington ran for 110 yards for NC State (6-4, 2-3 Atlantic Coast Conference), which again saved its best for the Tar Heels. The Wolfpack ranked in the bottom half of the league's defensive statistics, but overwhelmed the Tar Heels (6-4, 2-4) and shut down freshman runner Giovani Bernard. NC State also knocked starting quarterback Bryn Renner from the game by the end of the third quarter.

It was NC State's first shutout in the series in more than five decades.

With that type of defense, QB Mike Glennon and the offense didn't need a big day. Glennon threw an interception on the first drive, but NC State protected the ball the rest of the day.

The win marked the first time the Wolfpack had taken five straight meetings with the Tar Heels since 1988-92. Glennon completed 16 of 33 passes for 164 yards, including the 12-yard scoring strike to T.J. Graham in the back of the end zone to cap NC State's second drive. Niklas Sade added two short field goals that helped the Wolfpack play with a lead all day in front of its red-clad home crowd.

The Wolfpack didn't manage many big plays against a North Carolina defense that played solidly enough to keep the Tar Heels in it, holding N.C. State to 290 total yards. The problem was that defense got little help from an offense that came in averaging 31 points per game, sending the Tar Heels to their first shutout loss since 2006.

North Carolina's offense finished with 165 total yards. The Tar Heels had one highlight-reel play when Renner found Dwight Jones on a midrange pass that Jones turned into a 75-yard touchdown run early in the second quarter, but a holding call wiped out the score.

Virginia Tech 24, Carolina 21
November 17, 2011
Lane Stadium • Blacksburg, Va.

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) - The Tar Heels lost a close one, as the No. 9 Virginia Tech Hokies came away with a 24-21 victory over North Carolina in a nationally-televised ESPN Thursday night game.

Logan Thomas threw for two touchdowns and ran for a third as Virginia Tech built a 24-7 lead, then held off a comeback bid by the Tar Heels in the final quarter.

North Carolina (6-5, 2-5) lost its second straight, but made it tense with the help of some defensive breakdowns by the Hokies when they appeared comfortably in command.

Bryn Renner's 5-yard touchdown pass to Erik Highsmith made it 24-14 with 7:06 to go, and after the Hokies were forced to punt, Renner's 64-yard pass to Highsmith on a blown coverage set up Houston's short touchdown run, making it 24-21 with 2:32 to play.

The Tar Heels tried an onside kick and recovered it, but the ball did not travel the required 10 yards to allow them to gain possession. Virginia Tech almost ran out the clock, leaving the Tar Heels time for one play - but Renner's short pass fell incomplete.

The Hokies (10-1, 6-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) won their sixth in a row since a home loss to No. 7 Clemson and remained on track for a fourth trip to the ACC championship game in five years.

Thomas hit Chris Drager with a game-tying 11-yard touchdown pass in the second quarter, ran 23 yards for a touchdown in the third and hit D.J. Coles on a perfect fade route to make it 24-7.

Antone Exum forced a fumble by Ryan Houston at the Hokies 5 with North Carolina poised to go ahead 14-0, and Derrick Hopkins recovered. The Hokies drove 95 yards to the tying touchdown.

The play came at the end of the Tar Heels' only sustained drive until the fourth quarter, and although Houston later scored to make it 24-21, he was kicking himself for the mistake.

Carolina 37, Duke 21
November 26, 2011
Kenan Stadium • Chapel Hill, N.C.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)- Dwight Jones had three touchdown catches while redshirt freshman Giovani Bernard ran for a season-high 165 yards and a score to help North Carolina beat Duke 37-21.

Jones finished with 10 catches for 101 yards to set a school single-season record for receptions, while Bernard had a season-high 30 carries and finished with 222 total yards to lead the Tar Heels (7-5, 3-5 Atlantic Coast Conference). Bryn Renner also threw for 274 yards and tied a school single-season record for TD passes, helping UNC beat the Blue Devils (3-9, 1-7) for the eighth straight year.

North Carolina also capitalized on four turnovers, getting a pair of field goals and Jones' 8-yard scoring catch midway through the fourth quarter following those miscues.

Sean Renfree threw a pair of touchdown passes for Duke, though coach David Cutcliffe went with mobile backup Anthony Boone most of the way after Renfree took a hard hit on a 45-yard touchdown throw to Jamison Crowder just before halftime.

Boone led a third-quarter touchdown drive that ended with his 11-yard pass to Donovan Varner and cut North Carolina's lead to 23-21 late in the third. But the Tar Heels answered when Renner found Jones for an 18-yard TD grab—Jones hauled it in with his left hand—that again made it a two-possession game. Then, after Boone threw an interception to end a drive that had crossed midfield, Renner directed a 91-yard drive that took 6 1/2 minutes off the clock before he found Jones for the 8-yard score that made it 37-21 with 8:17 left.

With the win, North Carolina can look forward to a likely bowl game and a chance to match its 8-5 record of each of the previous three seasons.

North Carolina had won 20 of 21 meetings and managed a 100-yard rusher in six of the last seven meetings, an indication of its physical edge in the rivalry.

Missouri 41, North Carolina 24
December 26, 2011
Independence Stadium
Shreveport, La.

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) - James Franklin ran for two touchdowns and threw for another, and Missouri beat North Carolina 41-24 in the Independence Bowl.

Missouri (8-5) ends the season on a four-game winning streak for the first time since 1965. Franklin, named the game's offensive Most Valuable Player, rushed for 142 yards and threw for 132 despite less than ideal conditions in the cold and rain at Independence Stadium. He led the Tigers to 31 first-half points - an Independence Bowl record.

For North Carolina (7-6), a season that started with a promising 5-1 record ended with a lopsided loss. The Tar Heels lost five of their final seven under interim coach Everett Withers.

North Carolina had the Atlantic Coast Conference's second-best rushing defense, giving up just 106.2 yards per game. But the Tigers found plenty of running room with Franklin and Kendial Lawrence, repeatedly gashing the Tar Heels for big gains.

Lawrence rushed for 108 yards and a touchdown as the Tigers racked up 337 yards on the ground.

North Carolina's quarterback, Bryn Renner, had a very productive game, throwing for 317 yards, three touchdowns and an interception.

North Carolina scored first, with Renner hitting Dwight Jones for a 22-yard touchdown pass with 12:12 left in the first quarter. That would be the high point for the Tar Heels.

Missouri responded with a 40-yard touchdown pass from receiver T.J. Moe to Wes Kemp after a lateral from Franklin. Moe hadn't thrown a touchdown pass since his days as a high school quarterback in suburban St. Louis, and it was just his second complete pass of the season.

The Tigers scored again on Franklin's 2-yard run to take a 14-7 lead late in the first quarter. The touchdown was set up by Franklin's 16-yard pass to L'Damian Washington that put the Tigers at the 2-yard line. Washington grew up in Shreveport, just a few miles from Independence Stadium.

And Missouri just kept piling on.

The Tigers scored two touchdowns and a field goal during the second quarter to take a 31-10 halftime lead.

North Carolina had a glimmer of hope late in the third when Jheranie Boyd caught a 44-yard touchdown pass from Renner to pull the Tar Heels to 34-17. But Missouri responded minutes later with Franklin's second touchdown run of the night and the rout continued.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAS

GEORGE BARCLAY, GUARD, 1934

Barclay was Carolina's first football All-America. The 5-11, 185-pound guard and linebacker was a three-year standout for Chuck Collins and Carl Snavely. A fine blocker and an extraordinary tackler, Barclay lined up in the offensive interior next to tackle Jim Tatum. He was captain of the 1934 team which went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as head coach at Carolina for three seasons, from 1953 to 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK, END, 1937

A 185-pound end, Bershak was a two-way performer for the Tar Heels. He was a fine receiver, but was even better on defense. He played two years for Carl Snavely and one for Ray Wolf. Bershak, an honor student, was also a basketball starter. He was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

STEVE MARONIC, TACKLE, 1938

Maronic was a two-way tackle for the Tar Heels and team co-captain in 1938. He was an "iron man," playing almost 60 minutes in every game that season. He turned in two of his best performances in front of the New York media against NYU at Yankee Stadium and Fordham at the Polo Grounds. Those games solidified his All-America chances. Maronic also was a place-kicker and hit 13 straight PATs in his final season.

PAUL SEVERIN, END, 1939-40

Severin was a two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

CHARLIE JUSTICE, HALFBACK, 1948-49

Twice a runner-up for the Heisman Trophy, Justice is rated by many as the best all-around player in the history of Southern football. He was a true triple-threat performer, leading Carolina in rushing, passing and punting from 1946 to 1949. He sparked Tar Heel teams which appeared in the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. He was the school's all-time total offense leader with 4,883 yards for more than 40 years and still ranks as the Tar Heels' sixth-leading career scorer, eighth-leading rusher and 20th-leading passer. He had a career punting average of 42.6 and averaged 14.2 yards on punt returns and 26.6 yards on kickoff returns. In 1948 he received the national player of the year award from the Washington Touchdown Club and was the recipient of the Walter Camp Memorial Trophy. Justice is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

KEN POWELL, DEFENSIVE END, 1949

Powell teamed with Art Weiner to give UNC a formidable pass receiving threat in the post-Wold War II "Justice Era." He was outstanding in the 1947 Sugar Bowl against Georgia and earned first-team All-America honors at defensive end in 1949 by NEA. That organization named Powell to its All-America Team on defense, the first time it selected All-Americas on both offense and defense. He finished his career with 23 receptions for 324 yards and three touchdowns.

ART WEINER, END, 1948-49

A great all-around end, Weiner led the nation in receiving in 1949 with 52 catches. He had been seventh nationally in receiving the previous year with 31 catches. Until 1997 he held the UNC career record with 18 touchdown receptions. Many remember him best for a game-saving defensive play on the last snap of the 1949 Duke game. Weiner was named the most outstanding lineman in the Senior Bowl. Weiner was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

IRV HOLDASH, CENTER, 1950

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He perhaps sealed All-America honors in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

AL GOLDSTEIN, END, 1958

An outstanding two-way end, Goldstein earned All-America honors in 1958 by making 24 catches for 490 yards, averaging an amazing 20.4 yards per reception. Adept at making the seemingly impossible catch, he had a 68-yard TD reception at Virginia. He also starred defensively and had a 46-yard interception return for a touchdown against Maryland.

BOB LACEY, END, 1963

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He was the first Tar Heel player to have at least 40 catches in two seasons. His career total of 102 receptions is the 10th-best in school history.

DON McCAULEY, HALFBACK, 1970

McCauley shattered the Carolina and the Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns, setting marks which still stand. His 1,720 yards was an all-time collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season. He was twice the ACC Player of the Year and still ranks fifth in career rushing at UNC. He had a lengthy professional career with the Baltimore Colts. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2002.

Don McCauley is carried off the field by the Kenan Stadium faithful following his legendary final home game performance in 1970. McCauley rushed for 279 yards and scored five touchdowns in a 59-42 win over the Blue Devils.

RON RUSNAK, OFFENSIVE GUARD, 1972

Rusnak was a unanimous All-America selection in 1972 as Carolina posted an 11-1 record. At 6-2 and 220 pounds, he did not have the size to play professional football, but Rusnak was a great college player. He was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice, starting on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. In 1972 he won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF, OFFENSIVE GUARD, 1974

Huff was a key man on one of the most explosive units in Carolina history. He was the leader of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels accumulate 4,691 yards, at the time a school record, in 1974. The 6-4, 255-pound Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Sparked in great part by his play up front, the Tar Heels had two backs rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season. Huff was the third player selected in the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

CHARLES WADDELL, TIGHT END, 1974

Waddell rates as one of the best all-around athletes in Carolina history. He won three football letters, two in basketball and one in track. Not only was he a fine receiver at tight end, but he was also a dynamic blocker. He set a school single-game record in 1974 with three touchdown catches against Clemson. He had 41 career catches for 518 yards and seven TDs. His professional career was cut short by a knee injury.

DEE HARDISON, DEFENSIVE TACKLE, 1977

A two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, Hardison played on one of the top defensive teams in Carolina history. UNC led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total, rushing, passing and scoring defense. A big reason was the play of Hardison, a 6-3, 252-pound tackle who dominated the line of scrimmage all season. After leaving Carolina he began a lengthy NFL career with the Buffalo Bills.

RICKY BARDEN, DEFENSIVE BACK, 1979

One of the top defensive backs in Carolina history, Barden was a repeat All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in 1978 and 1979. Barden made nine career interceptions. He started at cornerback for two years and then was shifted to strong safety for his final year where he broke up nine passes and was the third-leading tackler on the team. His 156 yards on interception returns are the third-most in school history.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR, OUTSIDE LINEBACKER, 1980

From midway in his junior season until the end of his senior year in 1980, Taylor dominated the football field as few defensive players ever had. Now regarded as the finest outside linebacker in the history of the game, Taylor had a remarkable senior season which featured a school-record 16 quarterback sacks and six other tackles for losses. In Carolina's only close games in an 11-1 season, Taylor made the game-saving defensive plays against Texas Tech and Clemson. He was a runaway selection as ACC Player of the Year.

RON WOOTEN, OFFENSIVE GUARD, 1980

Wooten won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1980 as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was the leading vote-getter in the offensive line on the All-ACC team. He was one of the leaders of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels lead the ACC in total offense and which also helped produce two 1,000-yard backs. He went on to become a starting guard with New England in the NFL.

DAVID DRECHSLER, OFFENSIVE GUARD, 1981-82

Drechsler became Carolina's first two-time All-America since Charlie Justice and Art Weiner when he earned first-team honors in 1981 and 1982. He played every position in the offensive interior during his Carolina career, but settled in at guard. The 6-4, 253-pound Drechsler played on Tar Heel teams which were 37-10-1 and were unbeaten in four bowl games. He also was the winner of a post-graduate scholarship from the NCAA. Drechsler went on to become a starter with the Green Bay Packers until a back injury forced him to give up the game.

WILLIAM FULLER, DEFENSIVE TACKLE, 1982-83

Fuller is one of just six Carolina players to win first-team All-America honors twice. Although powerfully built at 6-3 and 250 pounds, Fuller's greatest asset was his quickness. He used that quickness to make 13 tackles for losses and six sacks in 1982 and 17 tackles for losses with five sacks the following year. He was the only unanimous choice on the 1983 All-ACC team and is one of just three defensive linemen ever to make All-ACC for three straight years.

BRIAN BLADOS, OFFENSIVE TACKLE, 1983

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

HARRIS BARTON, OFFENSIVE TACKLE, 1986

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

PAT CROWLEY, OFFENSIVE GUARD, 1989

Crowley was a standout offensive guard and a leader of the first of Mack Brown's teams. He won first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1987, 1988 and 1989 and became only the second offensive lineman in conference history to win three all-league honors (Virginia's Jim Dombrowski was the other). He started every game in his college career and helped open the way for a pair of 1,000-yard backs (Derrick Fenner in 1986 and Kennard Martin in 1988). He is one of three Tar Heels to be named first-team All-ACC in three seasons.

BRACEY WALKER, FREE SAFETY, 1993

The first Carolina defensive back to ever receive first-team All-America honors by a major organization, Walker burst onto the scene in 1992 when he was one of the stars of the Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State. Walker blocked two punts in that game, returned one of them for a tying touchdown and set up the game-winning interception with a jarring collision. He was the Defensive MVP of the Peach Bowl. In 1993 he led the Tar Heels with 100 tackles and was the co-leading vote-getter on the All-ACC first team defense. He also blocked four more punts, two of which were recovered in the end zone by Carolina, and was named the National Special Teams Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated.

Marcus Jones posted seven sacks and 19 tackles for losses in 1995 en route to the ACC Defensive Player of the Year honors.

Harris Barton was an excellent student-athlete at Carolina from 1983-86. He was a first-round draft pick of the San Francisco 49ers and was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship.

MARCUS JONES, DEFENSIVE TACKLE, 1995

Jones became the first Tar Heel to earn consensus first-team All-America honors since Harris Barton in 1986 and the first defensive lineman since William Fuller in 1982-83. Jones had 25 career sacks and finished with 222 tackles. That included 46 behind the line of scrimmage. He broke Lawrence Taylor's school record for sacks and held that mark until Greg Ellis broke the record in 1997. He was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1995 and earned first-team All-ACC honors for the second straight season. He became the first Tar Heel defender to repeat all-conference selections since Tim Goad in 1986-87. As a senior he had a career-high 94 tackles, despite facing constant double- and triple-team efforts. He registered an ACC-leading 19 tackles for losses for 74 yards, seven of which were quarterback sacks. He was hampered in the first half of the season by a knee sprain. Over the last five weeks, however, he averaged 10.8 tackles per game and had 16 tackles for losses for 65 yards, including six sacks for 41 yards, and pressured the quarterback 13 times. Quite fittingly, Jones capped his career by sacking Arkansas quarterback Barry Lunney on the Razorbacks' final offensive play in Carolina's 20-10 win in the 1995 Carquest Bowl.

DRE' BLY, CORNERBACK, 1996-97

The first freshman in ACC history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors, Bly became just the fifth freshman in NCAA history to be named to the Associated Press All-America first team in 1996. He was also a first-team All-America selection by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the Football Writers Association of America, The Sporting News and Athlon Sports and a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award as the National Defensive Back of the Year. He earned Atlantic Coast Conference first-team honors and was the league's Rookie of the Year. He is the only UNC freshman to earn first-team All-America honors. He made two second-half interceptions, broke up two passes and had seven tackles against West Virginia in the 1997 Gator Bowl. Bly led the nation in interceptions and interceptions per game. He set an ACC single-season interceptions record with 11, one more than Bob Sullivan of Maryland had in 10 games in 1965. The Chesapeake, Va. native had three multi-interception games, including three against Georgia Tech, two at Florida State and two at Virginia. In 1997, Bly became the first player in UNC history to repeat consensus first-team All-America honors. He had five interceptions, including one he returned for a touchdown in a comeback win over Virginia. In 1998, he set the ACC all-time record with his 20th interception (not counting the two he had in the Gator Bowl). He was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America honors on three occasions.

GREG ELLIS, DEFENSIVE END, 1997

A defensive end from 1994-97, Ellis is the Tar Heels' career leader in quarterback sacks. The Wendell, N.C., native had 32.5 sacks for 253 yards in his career. He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards allowed in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only four players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team AP All-America as a junior. Schmitz also set the ACC career record for punting average at 44.4 yards per kick. He had at least one 50-yard punt in all 11 UNC games in 1999 and 32 kicks of over 50 yards. In just three seasons, Peppers finished second at Carolina in career sacks and tackles for loss. In 2000, he led the nation with 15 sacks and established a school record with 24 tackles for losses. The following year, Peppers led a defense that finished first in the ACC and 15th in the nation in total defense. He became just the second Tar Heel and the first since Lawrence Taylor to earn unanimous All-America honors. A forward on Carolina's basketball team, Peppers averaged 7.1 points and 4.0 rebounds to help the Tar Heels claim a share of the 2001 regular-season ACC championship. Twenty-six former University of North Carolina football players have been honored in a special fashion as their names and jersey numbers have been placed on the facade of Kenan Stadium's upper deck. The men honored include five who have already had their jersey numbers retired, Carolina's consensus first-team All-Americas and any athlete who was named Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year. Consensus All-Americas are those players who made the majority of the first-team selections in any given year. In 2003, the Athletics Council and Athletic Director Dick Baddour voted to also honor five first-team Associated Press All-Americas and two players who were among the ACC's greatest 50 football players.

GEORGE BARCLAY #99

A guard and linebacker from 1932 to 1934, whose number has been retired. He was the school's first football All-America and is a member of the state of North Carolina's Sports Hall of Fame. A guard and linebacker at 5-11, 185 pounds, Barclay was a standout for three seasons under coaches Chuck Collins and Carl Snavely. A tremendous blocker and ferocious tackler, he was captain of the 1934 team that went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as UNC's head coach from 1953 until 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK #59

A great two-way end from 1935 to 1937 who was a consensus All-America in 1937. His number also has been retired. Bershak was a brilliant defender and his team's top receiver. He also was a starter on the basketball team and an honor student. Bershak was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

BILL SUTHERLAND #46

A blocking back on the 1946 Sugar Bowl team, whose number has been retired. He died in an auto accident after his freshman year, stunning his teammates and Coach Carl Snavely. Sutherland was named one of the Tar Heels' three captains for what would have been his sophomore season and Snavely worked to ensure that his number would be retired.

CHARLIE JUSTICE #22

One of the most famous and popular athletes in the history of the state. Justice was a consensus All-America and twice runner-up for the Heisman Trophy. During his four seasons, 1946-49, Carolina went to the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. A single-wing tailback, he still holds many of the school's total offense records. In addition, he was a sensational punter and kick returner. He was the 1948 National Player of the Year.

ART WEINER #50

An outstanding two-way end from 1946 to 1949, whose number has been retired. Weiner won All-America honors in 1948 and 1949 and was the nation's leading receiver as a senior. He teamed with the legendary Charlie Justice to form perhaps the most potent offensive duo in school history. Voted the top lineman in the Senior Bowl, Weiner is a member of the National Football Hall of Fame. He is still ninth in UNC receptions with 106.

DANNY TALBOTT #10

A star quarterback from 1964 to 1966 and the 1965 ACC Player of the Year under Head Coach Jim Hickey. Talbott led the league in total offense and scoring that season. He had 318 yards of total offense in one game against Georgia, at the time a school record.

DON MCCAULEY #23

The ACC Player of the Year as a junior and senior and a consensus All-America in 1970, his final season. McCauley was the first of Carolina's 23 backs to rush for 1,000 yards. He twice led the ACC in rushing with 1,092 yards in 1969 and 1,720 in 1970. That latter total at the time broke O.J. Simpson's single-season NCAA record. He also led the nation in all-purpose running as a senior and his 126 points that year still is the league record.

RON RUSNAK #62

An offensive guard on three bowl teams from 1970 to 1972 who won unanimous All-America honors in his senior season. At 6-2, 220 pounds, Rusnak wasn't as big as some linemen, but had great technique. He was the cornerstone of the offensive front on the 1972 team, which went 11-1. Rusnak was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. He won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1972 as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF #68

A three-year starter at offensive guard from 1972 to 1974 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Huff was a dynamic blocker at 6-4 and 250 pounds. He was the key figure on the 1974 line which helped Carolina boast a pair of 1,000-yard backs and lead the ACC in total offense, rushing and scoring. Led by Huff, UNC accumulated 4,691 yards, at the time a school record. The Tar Heels were fifth nationally in total offense and ninth in scoring that season. Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference and was the third player selected overall in the 1974 NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

MIKE VOIGHT #44

A hard-running tailback from 1973 to 1976 who was the ACC Player of the Year as both a junior and senior. Voight is second in Carolina history in rushing with 3,971 yards and fifth in scoring with 254 points. He had three 1,000-yard seasons and twice was the top ground-gainer in the ACC. In 1976 he scored 110 points and ran for 1,407 yards, including 261 in his final game —a dramatic 39-38 shootout with Duke.

DEE HARDISON #71

A defensive tackle from 1974 to 1977 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Hardison was the star of one of Carolina's greatest defenses in his final year. He dominated the line of scrimmage all season long as the Tar Heels led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. Carolina also topped the ACC in total, rushing and pass defense that year. No team would lead the league in all four again until Florida State in its 1993 national championship season.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR #98

An outside linebacker from 1977 to 1980 who is regarded as the greatest player of all time at that position. Taylor was a consensus All-America and the ACC Player of the Year in 1980. He had a Carolina-record 16 quarterback sacks that season for losses totaling 127 yards. Sparked by his play, the Tar Heels went 11-1 in 1980 and won the ACC championship.

WILLIAM FULLER #95

A defensive lineman from 1980 to 1983 who was a consensus All-America as a senior. Also honored as a first-team All-America as a junior, he is one of only six Tar Heel players to be named first-team All-America twice. Fuller, who utilized his tremendous quickness to slice through offensive lines, had 22 tackles for losses in both 1981 and 1983. He is one of only three defensive linemen ever to make the All-ACC team three times.

ETHAN HORTON #12

The Associated Press ACC Player of the Year as a senior, Horton rushed for 1,247 yards in 1984 after a 1,107-yard performance in 1983. He was named the game's co-MVP in UNC's 1981 Gator Bowl win over Arkansas and was the MVP of the 1982 Sun Bowl.

MARCUS JONES #71

A defensive end/tackle from 1992 to 1995 who was a consensus All-America and the ACC Defensive Player of the Year as a senior. Jones had 24 career quarterback sacks to break Lawrence Taylor's school record. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, Jones led a Tar Heel defense which had the ACC's No. 1 rated total defense in 1995. He finished his career with 222 tackles, including 46 for losses. Jones helped Carolina to four straight bowl invitations and wins in the 1993 Peach and 1995 Carquest Bowls.

GREG ELLIS #87

A defensive end from 1994 to 1997, Ellis is UNC's all-time leader in quarterback sacks. The Wendell, N.C., native had 32.5 sacks for 253 yards in his career. He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only four players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. He was the eighth selection in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys.

BRIAN SIMMONS #41

An outside linebacker from 1994 to 1997, Simmons was a major contributor in Carolina's rise to the Top 10 in his final two seasons. A first-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals in '97, Simmons had 317 tackles over his last three seasons. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team AP All-America as a junior. The New Bern, N.C., native finished his career with 36 tackles for losses and 11 sacks.

DRE' BLY #31

The Chesapeake, Va., native is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to earn first-team All-America honors in three different seasons. Bly became the first freshman defensive player in college football history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in 1996. When he repeated consensus honors in 1997, he became the first two-time consensus All-America in UNC football history. In 1998, he set the all-time ACC record for interceptions with 20 and was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly led the nation as a freshman with 11 interceptions in the regular season and added two more pass thefts in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia. Bly was named first-team All-America in 1996 by the Associated Press, The Sporting News, the Football Writers and the Walter Camp Foundation. In 1997, Bly added five more interceptions and was named All-America by the Associated Press, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Writers and Football News.

JULIUS PEPPERS #49

A unanimous All-America selection in 2001, Peppers won the 2001 Lombardi Award as the nation's top lineman. He also won the Chuck Bednarik Award as the nation's top overall defensive player, earned All-America honors in 2000 and was a two-time first-team All-ACC selection. Peppers ranks second at UNC and sixth in the ACC in career sacks, despite playing just three seasons. He led the nation with 15 sacks as a junior. One of the top two-sport athletes in ACC history, Peppers was a forward on UNC's basketball team where he helped the Tar Heels advance to the 2000 Final Four and earn a share of the 2001 ACC regular-season title.

KELVIN BRYANT #44

A three-time first-team All-ACC tailback, Bryant ranks fourth at UNC with 3,267 rushing yards. He had three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons from 1980-82. Despite injuries, he had 1,015 yards in seven games in 1981. He rushed for more than 100 yards in a game on 19 occasions and scored six touchdowns in a game against East Carolina in 1981. Bryant holds the NCAA record for most touchdowns scored in two and three consecutive games (11 and 15, respectively). He played eight years of professional football.

HARRIS BARTON #67

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

BRIAN BLADOS #60

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

IRV HOLDASH #25

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He perhaps sealed All-America honors in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

BOB LACEY #85

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He was the first Tar Heel player to have at least 40 catches in two seasons. His career total of 102 receptions is the 10th-best in school history.

AMOS LAWRENCE #20

The only ACC player and one of only seven players in college football history to rush for 1,000 yards in four consecutive seasons, Lawrence holds the UNC career record and is second in ACC history with 4,391 yards rushing. He rushed for more than 100 yards in a game on 25 occasions and his 286 yards rushing vs. Virginia in 1977 was NCAA freshman rushing record at the time. Lawrence was named the co-MVP in the 1979 Gator Bowl and was the MVP of the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl.

PAUL SEVERIN #87

Severin was a two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

CAROLINA'S ACC TOP 50 PLAYERS

Dre' Bly
Kelvin Bryant
William Fuller
Amos Lawrence
Don McCauley
Julius Peppers
Lawrence Taylor
Mike Voight

Amos Lawrence is the only ACC player to rush for 1,000 yards in four consecutive seasons.

1947 Sugar Bowl
New Orleans, La.
Georgia 20, Carolina 10
January 1, 1947

The 1947 Sugar Bowl, which matched Carolina against Georgia, is one of the most famous Tar Heel games of the Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice years and produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history.

Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive right end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass at the Georgia 24-yard line. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced 52 yards to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score the tying touchdown on a quarterback sneak by Johnny Rauch.

Carolina's lone touchdown came on a Walt Pupa two-yard run following an interception by Tar Heel guard Bob Mitten.

The Tar Heels' last lead at 10-7 came on a Bob Cox field goal.

The Georgia game-winner came on a 67-yard touchdown pass from Trippi to Dan Edwards less than three minutes after the UNC field goal.

The Dawgs' Charley Trippi rushed for 77 yards, while Justice carried 18 times for 37 yards.

1949 Sugar Bowl
New Orleans, La.
Oklahoma 14, Carolina 6
January 1, 1949

The Tar Heels returned to the Sugar Bowl in 1949 and were defeated 14-6 by the University of Oklahoma, representing the Big Seven Conference. A record crowd of 85,000 turned out to see the Charlie Justice-led Tar Heels battle Bud Wilkinson's Sooners.

Carolina threatened early, advancing via a Justice to Art Weiner 23-yard pass play to the OU 15. Justice's next pass, however, was intercepted by linebacker Myrle Greathouse who rumbled 59 yards to the Carolina 13. Sooners' quarterback Jack Mitchell scored the first points of the day on a two-yard run.

The Heels capitalized on an OU fumble later in the first quarter and Justice marched the team down to the two, from where Hosea Rodgers scored. The conversion was wide right.

Carolina advanced to the OU eight late in the first half, but could not score.

The Sooners regained the lead for good in the third quarter. Quarterback Darrell Royal connected for 37 yards with Frankie Anderson and two plays later, Lindell Pearson ran it in from eight yards out.

Justice was brilliant, rushing for 84 yards and passing for another 57.

1950 Cotton Bowl
Dallas, Texas
Rice 27, Carolina 13
January 1, 1950

Charlie Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but it just wasn't enough as the Tar Heels fell to fifth-ranked Rice, 27-13. The Owls had a 9-1-0 record, while Carolina came in at 7-3 and was ranked 16th.

Rice and Carolina played to a scoreless draw in the opening quarter, but Rice opened the scoring in the second quarter when quarterback Tobin Rote hooked up with Billy Burkhalter for a 44-yard touchdown. Bobby Lantrip's three-yard run built a 14-0 halftime lead, and the Owls kept right on rolling i n the third quarter.

On its second possession of the second half, Rice traveled 77 yards in six plays, capped by Rote's 17-yard scoring pass to "Froggie" Williams. Burkhalter made it 27-0 with a 12-yard fourth quarter score.

The Tar Heels got two touchdowns in the final eight minutes. Justice hit Paul Rizzo for a two-yard touchdown pass and then Rizzo ran it in from two yards.

Justice managed 59 yards rushing and another 63 in the air, while Art Weiner led the Tar Heels with five receptions for 41 yards. Billy Hayes topped the UNC rushing attack with 107 yards on 19 carries.

The 1950 Cotton Bowl marked the end of the "Choo-Choo" Justice era that began in 1946. The Tar Heels went 32-9-2 in that time and played in three major bowl games.

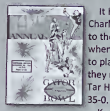
1963 Gator Bowl
Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 35, Air Force 0
December 28, 1963



It had been 13 years since Charlie Justice had led Carolina to the 1950 Cotton Bowl, so when the Tar Heels got a chance to play in the 1963 Gator Bowl, they made the most of it. The Tar Heels walloped the Air Force, 35-0.

Ken Willard was the hero of the day. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the run-away victory. When Willard wasn't running in this rout, he did his share of the offensive blocking.

Joe Robinson scored on a five-yard pass and also caught a two-yard conversion to give the Tar Heels a 20-0 lead at intermission.

Coach Jim Hickey's Tar Heels had 23 first downs to the Academy's 14, and piled up 370 yards in total offense compared to 260 for the Falcons.

Gary Black completed all six of his passes for 71 yards and one touchdown and he rushed for another score. Junior Edge was good on five of his nine throws for 42 yards.

Carolina finished the season 9-2, its best record in Hickey's eight years at the helm.

1970 Peach Bowl
Atlanta, Ga.
Arizona State 48, Carolina 26
December 30, 1970

The Tar Heels exploded for 26 second quarter points but couldn't hold off Arizona State in the final two quarters as the Sun Devils rallied for an exciting 48-26 victory before 52,126 fans at Grant Field.

Carolina spotted unbeaten ASU 14 points on a pair of touchdowns runs, from eight and 33 yards, by Bob Thomas.

Don McCauley got the Tar Heels on the scoreboard with a one-yard plunge set up by a long pass from Paul Miller to Ricky Lanier. ASU scored on its next series, though, on a 67-yard TD catch by J.D. Hill.

Carolina then scored the final three touchdowns of the first half to go into the intermission with a 26-21 lead. First, Miller passed 37 yards for a score to Tony Blanchard. Then McCauley rushed in from 17 yards out. And finally, the All-America McCauley scored again from four yards.

Arizona State dominated a second half which was played in a heavy Atlanta snowstorm and without Miller, who left with an injury.

Monroe Ely scored twice and Thomas reached the end zone for the third time in the Sun Devils' 27-point second half.

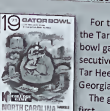
1971 Gator Bowl
Jacksonville, Fla.
Georgia 7, Carolina 3
December 31, 1971



For the first time since 1950, the Tar Heels were playing in a bowl game for the second consecutive season. This time, the Tar Heels would fall, 7-3, to the Georgia Bulldogs.

The game produced a bowl first — brothers coaching against each other. Bill Dooley led the Tar Heels and older brother Vince coached the Dawgs.

The game was a defensive struggle with all the points coming in the third quarter.

In the opening half, Carolina had the best chance as linebacker Jimmy Webster, voted the Tar Heels' MVP this day, blocked a punt out of bounds at the Georgia 24. A fumble, though, denied Carolina any points.

A pair of long runs by Lewis Jolley brought the Tar Heels down to the Georgia 16 on UNC's first possession of the second half. But a procedure penalty forced the Heels to settle for a 35-yard field goal by Ken Craven.

A 31-yard pass play from Andy Johnson to Roy Hunnicutt set up the Georgia touchdown. Jimmy Poulos, on the very next play following Hunnicutt's catch, took it in for a score from 25 yards. Poulos rushed for 161 yards on the afternoon and was named the Georgia MVP.

1972 Sun Bowl
El Paso, Texas
Carolina 32, Texas Tech 28
December 30, 1972

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic brought the Tar Heels from behind with a late scoring drive which he capped by tossing a 13-yard touchdown pass to wingback Ted Leverenz.

That play, with a minute to go in the game, gave UNC a 30-28 lead. Carolina added two points moments later as Ronnie Robinson sacked quarterback Joe Barnes in the end zone.

The Tar Heels led 9-0 in the second quarter on a field goal by Ellis Alexander and touchdown run by Dick Oliver. The Red Raiders rallied, however, for the next 21 points and a 21-9 lead. Vidnovic hit Leverenz for a 62-yard touchdown and Billy Hite carried it in from three yards to reestablish a 24-21 Carolina lead. Tech gained the advantage, 28-24, with 7:41 to play in the game.

Vidnovic completed 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards and two touchdowns. Ike Oglesby rushed for 71 yards and Sammy Johnson added 52.

The Red Raiders had a touchdown called back in the second quarter. All-America guard Donald Rives ran a blocked punt back for an apparent score, but Tech was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct and the points were nullified.

Mississippi State 26, Carolina 24
December 28, 1974

Despite mounting 402 yards in total offense, the Tar Heels dropped a 26-24 decision to Mississippi State in a record-setting Sun Bowl.

Terry Vitrano's two-yard touchdown with 3:41 remaining was the game-winner. That capped a 16-play, 80-yard drive which lasted nearly seven minutes.

Carolina had taken a 24-20 lead with 10:26 to play on an Ellis Alexander field goal.

The Bulldogs totaled a Sun Bowl record 499 yards in total offense — 455 of those yards came on the ground via the veer offense. Walter Packer rushed for 189 yards, Vitrano added 164 and quarterback Rockey Felker gained another 69.

The Tar Heels also got big ground gains from Mike Voight and James Betterson. Voight picked up 90 yards on 19 carries and Betterson chipped in with 84 on 17 rushes. But Voight was stopped a yard shy of a first down on Carolina's last offensive play of the game. Chris Kupec, who led the nation in pass completion percentage, connected with Jimmy Jerome for 29 yards and a touchdown.

1976 Peach Bowl
Atlanta, Ga.
Kentucky 21, Carolina 0
December 31, 1976

Playing without an injured Mike Voight, the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year, the Tar Heels managed just five first downs and 108 yards total offense in a 21-0 loss to Kentucky.

Voight, who had rushed for 1,407 yards, injured his ankle in practice two days before the game when he stepped in a hole going out on a pass play. Ironically, Voight had caught just four passes the entire season.

The teams battled to a tie at the half, but Carolina thought it had put up points in the first quarter. On the Tar Heels' opening drive, Matt Kupec hit split end Walker Lee with a 50-yard touchdown pass, but officials ruled the Tar Heels offside and the play came back.

Early in the third quarter, Kentucky defensive end Bud Diehl knocked the ball from Kupec's grasp and the 'Cats recovered at the UNC 21. That set up the first of three rushing touchdowns by fullback Rod Stewart.

Stewart, who finished with 104 yards and the game's MVP trophy, added fourth quarter scores from 13 and three yards.

1977 Liberty Bowl
Memphis, Tenn.
Nebraska 21, Carolina 17
December 19, 1977

No. 12 Nebraska scored two fourth quarter touchdowns and rallied for a 21-17 victory over 13th-rated North Carolina.

Reserve quarterback Randy Garcia came off the Cornhuskers' bench in the final period to toss a pair of touchdown passes, including a 33-yard game-winner to Tim Smith with 3:16 left in the game. That came six plays after Nebraska recovered a fumble at the UNC 43.

Tar Heel quarterback Matt Kupec, voted the game's Most Valuable Player despite the loss, had led the Tar Heels to a 17-7 lead in the third quarter. Kupec, who connected on seven of his 11 passes, threw touchdown passes to Brooks Williams and Bob Loomis. Tom Biddle added Carolina's final points with 4:17 left in the third on a Liberty Bowl record 47-yard field goal.

Carolina led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, allowing just 7.4 points per game through the regular season. Nebraska was the only team to score more than 14 points against UNC all season.

Bill Dooley resigned in January 1978 to accept the dual position of head football coach and athletic director at Virginia Tech.

1979 Gator Bowl
Jacksonville, Fla.

December 28, 1979

Matt Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes for 161 yards and one touchdown and Amos Lawrence rushed for 118 yards to lead North Carolina to a 17-15 win over Michigan.

Trailing 9-0, the Tar Heels rallied for the next 17 points and then held off a Michigan threat late in the game to post the first of Dick Crum's four consecutive bowl wins.

Carolina had two chances early on to score first, but high winds knocked down a pair of Jeff Hayes field goal attempts. Michigan did score first following a turnover and added a 53-yard touchdown reception by Anthony Carter to move ahead 9-0.

Doug Paschal put the Heels on the board with a two-yard touchdown. Early in the third, Kupec engineered a 16-play, 97-yard touchdown drive which culminated in a 12-yard pass to Phil Farris. Hayes added a 32-yard field goal in the fourth for a 17-9 UNC lead.

Michigan, thwarted once already in the fourth when Lawrence Taylor scooped up a loose ball, did manage another Carter touchdown with 1:28 left, but the two-point conversion pass to Carter fell short.

Kupec and Lawrence were named co-Most Valuable Players.

December 31, 1980

Amos Lawrence rushed for 104 yards and one touchdown and the Tar Heel defense allowed just two first downs and 36 total yards in the second half as Carolina played error-free football to defeat Texas, 16-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Lawrence, the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, scampered 59 yards for a touchdown on the Tar Heels' fourth play from scrimmage for a 7-0 lead. Following a Texas touchdown in the second quarter by Mike Luck, Carolina regained the advantage for good on a one-yard run by Kelvin Bryant.

Jeff Hayes converted a fumbled punt snap by the Longhorns into a 31-yard field goal with 2:03 to play in the third quarter.

The defense, which allowed 224 yards and 11 Texas first downs in the opening half, dominated the second 30 minutes. UNC safety Steve Streater was named the defensive MVP as he had an interception, recovered a fumble and also boomed a 63-yard punt, longest in Bluebonnet Bowl history.

Carolina's 11-1 record matched the best season in UNC history. The Tar Heels finished ranked eighth by the Associated Press and ninth by UPI.

1981 Gator Bowl
Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 31, Arkansas 27
December 28, 1981

Kelvin Bryant rushed for 148 yards and Ethan Horton added 144 to lead the Tar Heels to a 31-27 victory over Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

Bryant and Horton shared Most Valuable Player honors, but it was a key defensive stop by seldom-used freshman Ronnie Snipes which saved the night for Carolina.

After building a 31-10 lead midway through the fourth quarter, Carolina watched as Arkansas rallied for two touchdowns and had the ball again inside Tar Heel territory with less than a minute to play. But on third down, Snipes, who had played just two previous downs in the contest, sacked quarterback Brad Taylor for a 17-yard loss.

The game was deadlocked at 10-10 at the half, but Carolina came right out to open the third quarter and put together a 13-play, 85-yard drive which was capped by Horton's one-yard scoring run.

UNC quarterback Rod Elkins scored on a one-yard sneak on the Tar Heels' next drive. He was set up by a 21-yard run by Horton and a 13-yard scamper by Bryant.

Horton then churned out 42 yards on six plays and went in from four yards out to give the Heels a 31-10 lead with 7:29 to play in the game.

The Razorbacks scored with 5:05 to play, recovered an onside kick and scored again with 2:44 left. UNC punter Jeff Hayes took an intentional safety with 1:44 to play. That gave the ball back to Arkansas and set up Snipes' defensive gem.

1982 Sun Bowl
El Paso, Texas
Carolina 26, Texas 10
December 25, 1982

North Carolina scored the final 23 points of the game in the final quarter and held seventh-ranked Texas to 48 total yards in the second half as the Tar Heels became the first ACC team to win four consecutive bowl games.

Ethan Horton was the offensive star of the game, rushing for 119 yards in the second half as Carolina won 26-10. He replaced injured starter Kelvin Bryant, who totaled 45 yards before leaving the game with an injured ankle.

Trailing 10-3 after three quarters, the Tar Heels vaulted into the lead via three consecutive field goals. Sophomore walk-on Rob Rogers, who had connected from 53 yards in the second quarter, hit a 47-yard field goal with 14:51 to play to narrow the Texas lead to 10-6. Brooks Barwick was then successful from 24 and 42 yards, the latter putting the Heels into the lead at 12-10 with 4:56 left.

Horton tacked on a three-yard touchdown with 2:17 remaining and Mike Wilcher fell on a loose ball in the end zone for another touchdown with 1:35 to play.

The defensive series of the game came five minutes into the third quarter with Texas leading 10-3 and with the ball, third-and-goal at the Carolina one. Two times, Texas fullback Ervin Davis tried to find the end zone, but twice he was hurled back. First, it was Wilcher who made the hit and then on 4th-and-goal, Greg Poole made the stop which changed the game.

The Christmas Day affair was played with intermittent snow flurries and a wind-chill reading that hovered around 12 degrees.

1983 Peach Bowl

December 30, 1983

Florida State scored the first two times it had the ball and penalties and turnovers cost the Tar Heels dearly, as the Seminoles whipped Carolina 28-3 in a miserably cold and half-empty Peach Bowl.

Played before only 25,648 fans in low-20 degree temperatures, the Peach Bowl loss snapped the Tar Heels' consecutive bowl- game winning streak at four.

The Seminoles held the Tar Heels' running game to just 32 yards and three first downs. One thousand-yard rushers Ethan Horton and Tyrone Anthony were held to 30 and 27 yards, respectively.

Florida State quarterback Eric Thomas, making his first start, connected with Weegie Thompson on touchdown passes on the 'Noles first two series.

Midway through the second quarter, the Tar Heels fumbled away a punt at their own 16 and FSU converted via a 1-yard touchdown run.

Carolina put up its only points of the day on Brooks Barwick's 36-yard field goal.

The loss was the fourth in the final five games of the season and ended a season in which Carolina had been ranked third in the nation.

1986 Aloha Bowl

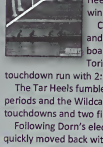
Arizona 30, Carolina 21
December 27, 1986



Arizona converted four North Carolina fumbles into 20 points and then held off a furious Tar Heel rally in the fourth quarter to win the 1986 Aloha Bowl, 30-21.

Carolina dug itself a 30-0 hole and did not put points on the board until freshman tailback Torin Dorn broke a 58-yard touchdown run with 2:19 left in the third quarter.

The Tar Heels fumbled five times in the first three periods and the Wildcats turned them into two touchdowns and two field goals.

Following Dorn's electrifying run, the Tar Heels quickly moved back within striking distance with two more touchdowns in the next seven minutes.

Mark Maye hit Randy Marriott with a six-yard touchdown pass after a Norris Davis interception and then followed a Davis punt block with a two-yard scoring run of his own to narrow the margin to 30-21 with 9:10 to play.

That, however, was as close as Carolina could challenge. A couple of dropped passes thwarted two more Carolina drives.

Dorn was the game's leading ground-gainer, rushing for 101 yards on only seven carries. Maye completed 17 of 34 passes for 171 yards; he hooked up with Eric Starr a game-high seven times for 53 yards.

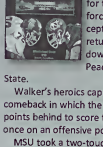
1993 Peach Bowl
Atlanta, Ga.
Carolina 21, Mississippi State 17
January 2, 1993



Defensive MVP Bracey Walker blocked consecutive third-quarter punts, returning one of them for the tying touchdown, and forced a fourth quarter interception which Cliff Baskerville returned 44 yards for a touchdown to lead Carolina to a 21-17 Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State.

Walker's heroics capped a fierce second-half comeback in which the Tar Heels came from 14 points behind to score three times, although just once on an offensive possession.

MSU took a two-touchdown lead in the first quarter and had two more scores in the second quarter called back due to holding penalties.

Carolina regrouped at halftime, however, and cut the lead to 14-7 just six plays into the third quarter. Mike Thomas connected with Bucky Brooks for a 53-yard completion on the fourth play of the half and Natrone Means scored from a yard out two snaps later.

Means led the Tar Heel offense with 128 yards rushing and was named the game's Offensive MVP.

Later in the third quarter, Walker blocked a punt but Carolina's field goal try was unsuccessful. On the next series UNC again forced the Bulldogs to punt and this time Walker blocked the kick, picked up the loose ball and raced 24 yards untouched for the tying score.

Early in the final quarter Walker forced a midair loose ball with a jarring hit and Baskerville plucked the ball out of the air and sprinted 44 yards down the left sideline for what proved to be the winning score.

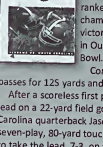
Alabama 24, Carolina 10
December 31, 1993



Quarterback Brian Burgdorf threw for two touchdowns and ran for another to lead 18th-ranked and defending national champion Alabama to a 24-10 victory over 11th-ranked Carolina in Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl.

Corey Holliday caught nine passes for 125 yards and was UNC's MVP.

After a scoreless first period, Alabama took the lead on a 22-yard field goal by Michael Proctor. Carolina quarterback Jason Stanicek then led a seven-play, 80-yard touchdown drive in just 1:36 to take the lead, 7-3, on the ensuing possession. Stanicek hit Holliday with completions of 29 and 22 yards and executed one of his trademark option pitches to freshman tailback Leon Johnson for an 18-yard gain. William Henderson plunged in from a yard out for the lead.

The Crimson Tide went up 10-7 Burgdorf scored from 33 yards out on a quarterback draw.

With 1:44 left before intermission, Stanicek led what would be the final Tar Heel scoring drive. He hit Holliday with passes of 12 and nine yards and Curtis Johnson ran twice for 20 yards before the drive stalled and Tripp Pignetti hit a 23-yard field goal to tie the game at 10.

The Alabama defense was the key to the game, holding UNC to a season-low 42 net yards rushing on 25 carries. Carolina could only muster 40 total yards and four first downs in the second half.

December 30, 1994

Priest Holmes rushed for 161 yards and four touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:17 to play, to lead Texas to a 35-31 win over the Tar Heels before a Sun Bowl record crowd of 50,612.

Holmes' four-touchdown performance wrestled away MVP honors from UNC quarterback Mike Thomas, who had the finest passing day of his career. Thomas completed 23 of 39 passes for 298 yards and two touchdowns. He set UNC bowl game records for completions and yards and tied the mark with two scoring tosses. He was 15 for 19 in the first half and completed 20 of 29 before a final desperation drive.

Wide receivers Marcus Wall and Octavus Barnes were two more standouts for the Tar Heels. Wall was selected the game's Most Valuable Special Teams Player. He gave the Tar Heels a 24-21 lead in the fourth quarter when he returned a punt 82 yards for a touchdown.

Barnes set UNC bowl game records for most catches and yards with nine receptions for 165 yards and one score. The 165 yards were also the most in Sun Bowl history.

With Carolina up, 31-21, Texas quickly went on a 68-yard touchdown drive in only 2:38. On the next series, Texas took over at its own 32 and drove 68 yards in 10 plays for the winning score. Holmes carried the last three plays on the drive for nine, two and finally the five yard touchdown run.

1995 Carquest Bowl
Miami, Fla.
Carolina 20, Arkansas 10
December 30, 1995

Leon Johnson rushed for a Carolina bowl record 195 yards and Mike Thomas threw for two scores as the Tar Heels knocked off Arkansas, 20-10, in the Carquest Bowl.

Johnson's 195-yard effort topped the previous high of 148 yards by Kelvin Bryant, also against Arkansas, in the 1981 Gator Bowl. Johnson had just 23 yards on eight carries in the first half, but exploded for 172 yards in the second half.

All-America tackle Marcus Jones capped his career with four tackles for losses, including a quarterback sack on Arkansas' last play from scrimmage - his final collegiate play.

Trailing by a touchdown the Tar Heels quickly moved into position to tie the game. On third-and-long quarterback Mike Thomas rolled right, threw back across the field to Ashford, who sprinted around the left flank into the end zone.

The Razorbacks managed to take a 10-7 lead in the third quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Latourette. Two series later Carolina went into the lead for good. On third-and-eight from the 28, Thomas ran the option around the right corner, turned upfield and then pitched the ball to Johnson, who was trailing the play perfectly. Johnson ran untouched for a 28-yard, go-ahead score.

1997 Gator Bowl
Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 20, West Virginia 13
January 1, 1997

Oscar Davenport, starting in place of injured first-team all-conference quarterback Chris Keldorf, completed 14 of 26 passes for 175 yards and one touchdown as Carolina defeated West Virginia 20-13 in the 52nd annual Toyota Gator Bowl.

Davenport, who also rushed for one touchdown, was named the game's MVP.

Carolina broke the scoring drought early in the second quarter when Davenport found Octavus Barnes in the back corner of the end zone on an 18-yard pass. As time was running down in the first half, Davenport and Leon Johnson led the Tar Heels on a five-play touchdown drive. Johnson caught a pass for 13 yards and rushed twice for 19 yards in the drive. Davenport scored on a 5-yard option keeper for a 17-3 lead.

West Virginia opened the second-half scoring with a 34-yard touchdown pass to close within seven points. A fumble recovery by Greg Williams ended one WVU threat, but West Virginia had one last chance to tie the game late in the fourth quarter. Carolina stopped the Mountaineers on 4th-and-6 at the UNC 24 with just under two minutes remaining.

Dre' Bly, Carolina's consensus first-team All-America, picked off two second-half passes. Carolina's defense forced four West Virginia turnovers; the Mountaineers had 10 in 11 regular-season games.

1998 Gator Bowl
Jacksonville, Fla.
Carolina 42, Virginia Tech 3
January 1, 1998

Chris Keldorf threw for 290 yards and three scores and Carolina's defense and special teams added touchdowns as the Tar Heels pounded Virginia Tech, 42-3, in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

The victory, UNC's most lopsided in a bowl game, secured a No. 4 final ranking in the coaches' poll for the 11-1 Tar Heels. The game was Carl Torbush's first as Carolina's head coach. Torbush, UNC's defensive coordinator the past 10 years, was elevated to head coach on December 8th after Mack Brown accepted the same position at the University of Texas.

Keldorf completed 17 of 28 passes, including touchdown throws of 62 and 14 yards to wide receiver Octavus Barnes and four yards to fullback Jamie Carrick.

Carolina amassed 427 total yards and held the Hokies to just 185 yards. Leading 3-0, Keldorf hit Barnes with a 62-yard bomb down the left sideline for a 10-0 lead. Later in the first quarter, Carolina forced Virginia Tech to punt deep in Hokie territory. Quinton Savage blocked the punt and Dre' Bly scooped it up at the 6-yard line and scored for a 16-0 UNC advantage.

One minute and 10 seconds after Bly's touchdown, Ellis fell on a loose ball in the Tech end zone for another touchdown. Carolina scored 16 first-quarter points in the entire regular season, but scored 16 in the first quarter of the Gator Bowl and six more just seven seconds into the second quarter.

The 42 points were the most in UNC postseason history and the three touchdown passes by Keldorf set a UNC bowl game record.

1998 Las Vegas Bowl
Las Vegas, Nev.
Carolina 20, San Diego State 13
December 19, 1998

Ronald Curry rushed for a season-high 93 yards and a touchdown, punter Brian Schmitz was outstanding despite windy conditions and the Tar Heel defense did not allow a TD in the last 59 minutes as Carolina defeated San Diego State, 20-13.

Curry, the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, gave Carolina the lead for good with a 48-yard touchdown run on the final play of the opening quarter. He rushed for 93 yards on 10 carries and accounted for 96 of Carolina's 196 total offense yards, despite playing just four series.

The game was played winds gusting to 47 miles per hour. Passing was almost impossible. In fact, Carolina won the game despite completing just four passes for 33 yards.

Schmitz averaged 44.0 yards on five punts and pinned the Aztecs inside their own 11-yard line four times. Late in the second quarter, Schmitz unloaded a 66-yard punt into the wind.

San Diego State took an early 7-0 lead in the first minute of the game before the Tar Heels scored 20 unanswered points to close the first half. After two second-half field goals cut it to 20-13, the Aztecs had one final chance to tie the game. With just over a minute left, Dre' Bly broke up a pass in the end zone. On the following play, Brandon Spoon tipped Brian Russell's pass in the air and the ball was intercepted at the goal line by Keith Newman with 59 seconds remaining.

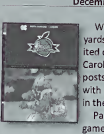
2001 Peach Bowl
Atlanta, Ga.
Carolina 16, Auburn 10
December 31, 2001



Willie Parker rushed for 131 yards and Ryan Sims led a spirited defensive effort as North Carolina won its fifth consecutive postseason bowl appearance with a 16-10 victory over Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

Parker, who started his first game since September, was spectacular, scoring on a 10-yard run in the first quarter and setting up a second-quarter field goal with a 43-yard dash. Parker had the fifth-best rushing day in UNC bowl history and it was the 11th time a Tar Heel had rushed for more than 100 yards in a bowl game.

Parker's touchdown was set up by Carolina's defense, which allowed just 32 total rushing yards and shutout Auburn for three quarters. In the first quarter, cornerback Michael Waddell forced a fumble at the Auburn 26-yard line that defensive end Joey Evans picked up and rumbled to the Auburn 8-yard line. Two plays later, Parker's touchdown gave Carolina a 7-0 lead.

Curry, who was named the game's Offensive MVP, scored on an incredible touchdown run in the third quarter to give Carolina a 16-0 advantage.

Defensively, Carolina came up with several big plays throughout the game and held off a furious Auburn comeback in the fourth quarter. Sims, the Defensive MVP, had six tackles, including two sacks and was constantly disrupting the Auburn backfield.

After scoring twice in the fourth quarter, Auburn attempted an onside kick, but UNC's Richard Moore covered the ball and the Tar Heels ran out the clock.

2004 Continental Tire Bowl
Charlotte, N.C.
Boston College 37, Carolina 24
December 30, 2004

Kicker Ryan Ohliger scored on a 21-yard fake field goal run to seal Boston College's 37-24 victory over North Carolina in the Continental Tire Bowl.

Clinging to a 27-24 lead over North Carolina (6-6) in the fourth quarter, BC quarterback Paul Peterson was injured as he tried to run outside for a first down on third-and-1 and was brought down awkwardly by Tommy Davis. On the next play, Ohliger, a 5-foot-9 freshman, took the handoff from holder Matt Ryan and raced into the end zone, breaking a tackle along the way, for a 34-24 lead with 10:32 to play. Before leaving, Peterson went 24-of-33 for 236 yards and two touchdowns.

Virginia represented the ACC in the first two Tire Bowls, so the inclusion of North Carolina was a welcome change of scenery. Tar Heels fans snapped up over 65,000 tickets, washing out the scattering of Boston College supporters in a sea of light blue.

They had plenty to cheer about early as North Carolina seized the momentum by scoring a pair of touchdowns after Peterson's fumble and Ohliger's missed field goal.

North Carolina quarterback Darian Durant threw for 260 yards and three TDs in his final game as a Tar Heel. He finished his storied career with 51 school records, including all major passing and total offense records.

Wide receiver Derelle Mitchell caught seven passes for 116 yards.

December 27, 2008

Pat White threw for 332 yards, including a 20-yard touchdown pass to Alric Arnett midway through the fourth quarter to send West Virginia to a 31-30 win over North Carolina in the Meineke Car Care Bowl.

The senior quarterback was voted MVP, helping West Virginia (9-4) overcome Hakeem Nicks' big day for North Carolina. Nicks caught eight passes for 217 yards and three touchdowns for the Tar Heels (8-5), but T.J. Yates was intercepted by Pat Lazear with under 2 minutes left to end Butch Davis' hopes of a bowl win in his second year at North Carolina.

White completed 26 of 32 passes and threw one interception.

After J.T. Thomas recovered Shaun Draughn's fumble at the West Virginia 30, White threw a 41-yard pass over the middle to Jock Sanders, picked up nine yards on a running play and then rifled a pass between two defenders to Arnett for the go-ahead touchdown with 7:14 left.

Yates couldn't find the dynamic Nicks on the Tar Heels' final drive, eventually throwing his first interception of the game.

Nicks already set three school receiving records and shattered his career-high in yards receiving - with 10:37 left in the second quarter. It was part of a dizzying offensive display by both teams that produced six touchdowns in the game's first 20 minutes.

Nicks' 25-yard TD catch from Yates early in the second quarter was his 178th career reception - another school record - and gave North Carolina a 23-21 lead. The action thrilled a sellout crowd at Bank of America Stadium that included thousands of fans from both schools.

2009 Meineke Car Care Bowl
Charlotte, N.C.
Pittsburgh 19, Carolina 17
December 26, 2009

Dion Lewis rushed for 159 yards and a touchdown, and Dan Hutchins kicked a 33-yard field goal with 52 seconds left to give the 17th-ranked Panthers a 19-17 win over North Carolina on Saturday in the Meineke Bowl.

Winning 10 games for the first time since Dan Marino was the quarterback in 1981, Pitt (10-3) converted on fourth down at its own 30 and took advantage of a key offsides penalty to set up Hutchins' fourth field goal.

T.J. Yates threw two touchdown passes to Greg Little, but his incomplete pass on fourth-and-10 from his own 49 with 6 seconds left sent the Tar Heels (8-5) to their second straight bowl loss.

Yates was 19 of 32 for 183 yards and an interception while Little caught seven passes for 87 yards and Ryan Houston rushed for 83 yards.

But North Carolina's defense, which came in sixth in the nation overall and ninth against the run, struggled to contain the shifty Lewis.

The matchup featured old coaching buddies who won a national championship and Super Bowl together. Pitt's Dave Wannstedt and Davis worked on Jimmy Johnson's staffs at Oklahoma State, Miami and the Dallas Cowboys. Their careers then included NFL head coaching jobs before they returned to college.

It took Wannstedt's big gamble to help Pitt end a two-game losing streak after North Carolina took a 17-16 lead late in the third quarter on Yates' second touchdown pass to Little.

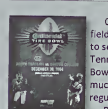
2010 Music City Bowl
Nashville, Tenn.
Carolina 30, Tennessee 27
December 30, 2004



Casey Barth kicked a 23-yard field goal in the second overtime to send North Carolina past Tennessee 30-27 in a Music City Bowl that will be remembered much more for the crazy finish of regulation than how it ended.

Barth kicked a 39-yard field goal after officials reviewed what had been the final play of the game and decided to penalize the Tar Heels (8-5) for having "more than 11 men" on the field. The Big Ten officiating crew also announced T.J. Yates had spiked the ball with 1 second left. That allowed Barth to run out and kick the field goal that tied it at 20.

Tennessee (6-7) was stunned at the sudden switch that cost the Vols an apparent bowl victory to cap Derek Dooley's first season. Tyler Bray threw a 25-yard TD in the first overtime, but Quan Sturdivant picked him off to end the Vols' last chance in the second OT.

Tennessee had the home-field advantage with LP Field painted orange from top to bottom, and the Vols' fans had been celebrating ever since Bray's 8-yard TD pass to Justin Hunter put them up 20-17 with 5:16 left.

But Donte Paige-Moss blocked Daniel Lincoln's extra point, and that provided the edge North Carolina needed to force overtime with Barth's second field goal.

Tennessee had a chance to clinch the victory when the Vols got the ball back with 1:36 left but punted it back to North Carolina with 31 seconds remaining to set up the bizarre finish.

The Tar Heels intercepted Bray three times, finished with four sacks and held Tennessee to 27 yards rushing on 29 attempts.

2011 Independence Bowl
Shreveport, La.
Missouri 41, Carolina 24
December 26, 2011

James Franklin ran for two touchdowns and threw for another, and Missouri beat North Carolina 41-24 in the Independence Bowl.

Franklin, named the game's offensive Most Valuable Player, rushed for 142 yards and threw for 132 despite less than ideal conditions in the cold and rain at Independence Stadium. He led the Tigers to 31 first-half points - an Independence Bowl record.

For North Carolina (7-6), a season that started with a promising 5-1 record ends with a lopsided loss. The Tar Heels lost five of their final seven under interim coach Everett Withers, who leaves to become defensive coordinator at Ohio State under Urban Meyer.

North Carolina had the Atlantic Coast Conference's second-best rushing defense, giving up just 106.2 yards per game. But the Tigers found plenty of running room with Franklin and Kendial Lawrence, repeatedly goinig for big gains.

Lawrence rushed for 108 yards and a touchdown as the Tigers racked up 337 yards on the ground.

North Carolina's quarterback, Bryn Renner, had a very productive game, throwing for 317 yards, three touchdowns and an interception.

North Carolina had a glimmer of hope late in the third when Jheranie Boyd caught a 44-yard touchdown pass from Renner to pull the Tar Heels to 34-17. But Missouri responded minutes later with Franklin's second touchdown run of the night.

CAROLINA

HEAD COACH

MEDIA INFORMATION

ATHLETIC COMMUNICATIONS

Football media services are coordinated by Assistant Athletic Director for Communications Kevin Best and Assistant Athletic Communications Director Bobby Hundley. Please direct interview, information and photo requests to Best or Hundley. Best's office is located on the fourth floor of the Kenan Football Center. The main Athletic Communications Office is located on the street level of the Koury Natatorium, adjacent to the Dean E. Smith Center and less than one mile from Kenan Stadium.

CREDENTIALS

Requests for working press credentials at Carolina home football games should be made in writing to Associate A.D. for Communications Steve Kirschner. The mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27515. Requests should be sent via e-mail (stevekirschner@unc.edu), and all requests should arrive at least one week prior to the game.

Credentials will be mailed or they may be picked up before 5 p.m. on Friday at the Athletic Communications Office at the Koury Natatorium. Those credentials not picked up by 5 p.m. on Friday will be left for Saturday pickup at Kenan Stadium Will Call at Gate 6. Will Call opens two hours prior to kickoff and will be staffed through the third quarter.

SIDELINE POLICY

Photographers will not be allowed on the sidelines without a UNC-issued photographer's vest. Vests will be distributed in the press box beginning 90 minutes prior to kickoff. Each photographer must sign in for his/her own vest. Under NCAA and ACC guidelines, photographers are not allowed between the 25-yard lines and must remain outside the restraining lines surrounding the field. Credential holders not working will be asked to leave the sidelines. A representative of the Athletic Communications Office will be on the field to handle any questions and serve as field liaison to press box officials. Equipment should not be left unattended on the sidelines. If you are shooting with a tripod, please keep a safe distance from the playing field.

GAME DAY PARKING

Requests for parking passes should be made well in advance to Steve Kirschner. Single-game parking passes will be mailed. Parking is located either in the Bell Tower Deck behind the Kenan Football Center or the Dogwood Deck at the corner of East and Manning Drive.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following a brief cooling-off period, requested UNC players and head coach Larry Fedora will be available in the interview area on the fifth floor of Kenan Football Center for a 20-25 minute interview period. The Tar Heels' locker room is closed.

Representatives from the Communications Office will take player requests from the media during the fourth quarter. Local television media who are on the field during the game should make player requests prior to the end of the game to the on-field Communications representative.

Fedora is contractually obligated to do a short postgame interview with the Tar Heel Sports Radio Network before addressing the other media in attendance. After night games, great care will be taken to get Fedora to the media as quickly as possible. We understand everyone has deadline pressures after late games and will do our best to provide access to players and coaches as quickly as possible.

INTERNET AVAILABILITY

Kenan Stadium's press box has wireless capability. Media with wireless capability should be able to connect to the Internet by using the network information provided in the press box.

PHONES

Several phones will be available for media use. All long distance calls must be by credit card, collect or billed to a third number. Anyone desiring a private phone should contact Bell South at least two weeks prior to the game. If you are calling from within the 919 area code, dial 780-2800. However, if you are calling from outside the 919 area code, then you must dial 1-800-919-2800.

Phone lines and ethernet access are available for use by photographers only in the main press area. UNC Director of Photography Jeffrey Camarati coordinates the photographer's work area.

Note: The on-campus building number for the press box at Kenan Stadium, for which you will be asked, is #519. List Steve Kirschner as the stadium contact for placing the phone order.

INTERVIEWS WITH HEAD COACH LARRY FEDORA

Larry Fedora will meet with the media at 11:30 a.m. each Monday prior to a game for approximately 30 minutes. An mp3 recording of Fedora's Monday press conference will be available on TarHeelBlue.com later that afternoon.

Fedora is also available on the weekly ACC Teleconference on Wednesdays. Contact the ACC or Best for the time and phone number. All other interviews should be arranged through the communications office.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews should be arranged through Bobby Hundley or Kevin Best. Players have been instructed not to grant an interview request unless they have been set up in this manner. The interviews will generally be conducted after football practice at the Navy Practice Fields. All interviews are to be conducted on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Players may do taped radio interviews but will not be available for live call-in radio shows. Due to the overwhelming number of all-sports radio talk stations, players will generally not be available to appear on these shows. Hometown stations, stations in that week's opponent's market or national shows may be accommodated.

PRACTICE COVERAGE

Subject to change, Carolina will practice each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday beginning at 3:30 p.m. on the practice fields located directly across the street from the baseball stadium and adjacent to the UNC School of Law. Practice will be open for the first 30 minutes each Tuesday. Players and select assistant coaches are available to meet with the media after practice on Tuesday and Wednesday.

TAR HEEL SPORTS NETWORK

Learfield Communications begins its 14th full year as the official media rights holder for the University of North Carolina athletic teams.

Based in Jefferson City, Missouri, Learfield purchased Tar Heel Sports Properties in October 1999, adding the UNC property to SS other schools, conferences and arenas under the Learfield umbrella. Among those for which Learfield also owns the rights are Alabama, Clemson, Colorado, Oklahoma, Indiana, Miami (Fla.), Missouri and Wisconsin.

"Our goal is to continue and add to the tremendous tradition and fan following at Carolina," says Gary Sobba, the 12-year General Manager for Tar Heel Sports Properties.

"I have worked on various college campuses for more than 22 years," adds Sobba, "and if there is a better athletic program in the country than this one, I don't know where it is."

Tar Heel Sports Properties is in its 18th year as UNC's multimedia rights holder. All Carolina fans have heard of the Tar Heel Sports Network, which broadcasts the play-by-play of football and basketball games, but that is only one facet of the operation.

Tar Heel Sports Properties is a full-service agency overseeing production and sales of all the University of North Carolina's football and basketball entities including television, print products, internet and radio.

THSP brings you a variety of ways to follow the Heels during the athletic season. Simply, listen to your radio during the week for "Larry Fedora Live" and "Roy Williams Live" or watch game highlights Saturday mornings on "Inside Carolina Football and Basketball," and on "Tar Heel Football Review Show" in the Triangle. When you are at Kenan Stadium pick-up the official game program.

The Tar Heel Sports Network continues to bring the great tradition of Carolina sports into your home. Fans have an opportunity to phone in and ask questions of the head coach every week during the football season on the "Larry Fedora Live" call in show.

Listeners can also tune in to "Inside Carolina Football", a daily five-minute program featuring head coach Larry Fedora and members of the football program. Both of these shows are heard on stations throughout North Carolina and beyond.

"Inside Carolina Football with Larry Fedora," is a half-hour television program seen each week on Fox Sports South throughout the southeast and on WTVD in the Triangle. The show features highlights of the previous game, interviews with current and former Tar Heel players, and a preview of upcoming action.

JONES ANGELL
PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Jones Angell enters his second year as the radio play-by-play announcer for the Tar Heel Sports Network.

A native of Jacksonville, N.C., Angell has worked in a number of roles at the network over the past 12 years. He served as host and color analyst for football and men's basketball games for six years before taking over the play-by-play duties in 2011. Angell moved into the play-by-play chair after the retirement of Hall of Fame broadcaster Woody Durham, who stepped down after 40 seasons as the Voice of the Tar Heels.

Angell called play-by-play for Carolina baseball for the past nine seasons, which included five trips to the College World Series. During his career, he has also called play-by-play for UNC women's basketball and women's soccer.

A 2001 UNC graduate, Angell has been a member of UNC's broadcast team for more than 70 Tar Heel football games and more than 200 men's basketball games, including the 2009 national championship.

Angell is the host for GoHeels.com broadcasts of Late Night with Roy Williams and football's Signing Day Live. He also produces and hosts features on the coaches' television shows and writes a column for Tar Heel Monthly magazine.

Angell is as assistant director of New Media at UNC where he helps produce video board and special internet features that are shown online, at various athletic venues, and at special events such as the 100-year celebration of Carolina Basketball. He was an associate producer on the commemorative DVD that chronicled the 2005 men's basketball national championship.

Angell and his wife, Elizabeth, have a daughter, Caroline, and a son, Walker.

TAR HEEL TRADITIONS

WHY TAR HEELS?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'ns heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said, "There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated August 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's nickname.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

OLD WELL WALK

SCHOOL COLORS

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white.

On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.

CAROLINA FIGHT SONGS

• HERE COMES CAROLINA

Here comes Carolina-lina
Here comes Carolina-lina
We hail from NCU.
We've got the spirit in it
We've got the team to win it
We wear the colors White and Blue –
So it's Fight! Fight! for Carolina
As Davie did in days of old.
As we gather 'round the 'Well
Cheer that Tar Heel team like hell –
For the glory of NCU.

• ALMA MATER

Hark the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true,
Singing Carolina's praises, Shouting "NCU."
(chorus)
Hail to the brightest star of all
Clear its radiance shine
Carolina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.
(refrain)
For I'm a Tar Heel born
I'm a Tar Heel bred,
And when I die I'm a Tar Heel dead.
So it's – Rah, Rah, Carolina-lina
Rah, Rah, Carolina-lina
Rah, Rah, Carolina!
Rah! Rah! Rah!

• CAROLINA VICTORY MARCH

There'll be a Carolina victory,
When cross that field the foe has fled.
Cheer that team to victory,
For we are Tar Heels born and bred.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Glory, glory, UNC.
Our hearts will live with thee
Fight! Fight! Fight!
For the Blue & White are rolling to victory.
